MANSFIELD GETS CAPTAIN BOYD'S PLACE

President Hawes' Statement Taken as Police War Cry Against the Circuit Attorney's Office.

HOPES FOR QUICK TRIAL FOR INDICTED OFFICER

Folk Declares Police Don't Notify Him of Existence of Plague Spots Like 4th District Section.

Police Captain Sam Boyd of the Fourth district, who was indicted by the grand jury Monday for neglect of duty, as exclusively stated in a late edition of the Post-Dispatch, was suspended Tuesday by Chief Kiely.

Lieut. Mansfield of the Fourth district succeeds him temporarily. Capt. Boyd gave bond, $200 in each count. F. W. Mott and Henry Helmich are his sureties.

President Harry B. Hawes of the police board issued a statement Tuesday morning on the Boyd matter, the tenor of which is taken by politicians as the police department's slogan of war on the circuit attorney's office. Chief Kiely and Capt. Boyd also issued signed statements. Circuit Attorney Folk gave an interview to the press.

It is agreed by politicians that every influence which the police department controls will be behind Capt. Boyd when he goes to trial.

Attorney Fred W. Lehmann has already been engaged as senior counsel for the defense.

The charge against Capt. Boyd is that he permitted the Sovenir brothers, also under indictment, to conduct a veritable vice syndicate in his police district.

The neglect of duty lay, according to the indictments, in Capt. Boyd's failure to crush this syndicate by continuous raids.

President Hawes' statement follows:

BY PRESIDENT HAWES.

"As president of the police board I am well satisfied with the indictment of Capt. Boyd. It will bring the issue clearly before the public, and in a public trial his guilt or innocence will be established.

"Capt. Boyd has been a member of the police department for 32 years. He has never in that period had one dishonorable act charged against him. When Kiely was made chief of police, the police commissioners carefully considered the qualifications of the twelve captains to secure a successor to Kiely in the Fourth district, that being the hardest district in St. Louis to manage. After careful consideration they decided that Capt. Boyd was the best qualified man for the position.

"I know nothing of the charges against Capt. Boyd excepting what I have read in the daily papers, and I presume from the newspapers that the charge against him is neglect of duty in not raiding certain houses in his district.

"There are over 400 places of this kind in St. Louis. They are known to every good officer in the police department. They are known to all the police commissioners, to whom a report of their existence is made once a week. They are known to the circuit attorney, the prosecuting attorney and assistant prosecuting attorney.

"If Capt. Boyd is charged with knowing of the existence of these places, and with being guilty of neglectful conduct in not raiding them, every member of the police department and every member of the police board can be charged with and found guilty of the same crime. So, also, can the circuit attorney, Mr. Folk, and the prosecuting attorney, Mr. Williams. If the police officers of the United States, having knowledge of such places, were indicted for not raiding the same, there would be 20,000 police officers in jail tomorrow morning charged with neglect of duty.

"There may be something in the charges against Capt. Boyd other than his failure to raid. If so, I know nothing of their nature.

"The police department asks but two things: First, a speedy trial, and, second, as much publicity to be given to the testimony of witnesses at his trial as possible.

"I was sent for by Chief Kiely this morning to confer with him as to whether Boyd should be suspended or not. It is my opinion that he should be suspended until after his trial."

Capt. Boyd's statement is the same in tone as Mr. Hawes, but not so lengthy. Chief Kiely's statement is identical with Mr. Hawes' in its treatment of the subject, but different in phraseology.

Circuit Attorney Folk said with reference to the Boyd matter:

"The police department does not keep the circuit attorney informed of the location of these places, nor so far as I know, is Mr. Williams, the prosecuting attorney, acquainted with them. This is not a case of merely failing to raid the places, but for neglecting to suppress a state of affairs shameful and disgraceful which had gone on flargrantly for months. If other instances of syndicated vice of this character exist elsewhere in this city, appropriate action will be taken at the proper time."

MORE CARS AND BETTER SERVICE

On the return to St. Louis Wednesday of President Murray Carleton, it is expected that the transit company will let a contract for 450 new cars. Better service is promised to come with the cars.

Bids for the construction of these cars have been received by the transit company officials in response to requests issued a few weeks ago.

The company has constructed a sample car which is at the Jefferson and Geyer avenue sheds, and the bids are for the construction of 450 reproductions of this car.

The contract to be let will specify that the first 100 cars shall be delivered on Aug. 1 and the balance in regular installments thereafter, the entire lot to be turned over to the company by the opening of the World's Fair in May, 1904.

The contract would have been let at once on the opening of the bids yesterday, but for Mr. Carleton's absence in the East.

FIRST ARREST FOR SPITTING

Barney Gilmore, leading man of the "Kidnaped in New York" company, was arrested at Eighth and Olive streets at 12:15 Tuesday afternoon, charged with spitting on the sidewalk.

Patrolmen McKay and Kaffing, who made the arrest, the first under the new anti-spitting law, escorted their prisoner to the Central District Police Station.

Capt. Reynolds released Gilmore, saying that he had no instructions covering such cases.

CURED WOUND IN THE HEART

Dr. Rassieur's Daring Operation Results in the Youthful Patient's Life Being Saved.

Edward Spilker, the lad who attempted suicide at his home, 1216 Wright street, Jan. 18, by shooting himself through the left lung and heart, will be removed from the City Hospital to the Insane Asylum this week. Physically he is well.

Spilker was mentally unbalanced when he attempted suicide. Early discovery of his act resulted in his being hurried to the City Hospital, where Dr. Rassieur widened the opening made by the bullet and lifted the heart from its resting place. Then he sewed up the wound. The lad's mental condition had grown worse.

FOOTBALL KILLS ATHLETE

University of Chicago Man Dies Long After Game as Result of Its Effect on His Heart.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Hugh Guthrie Leighton, a graduate student at the Armour Institute, is dead as the result of a football game in which he participated last October. Death was caused by the weakening of his heart action. Leighton was prominent in athletics when in the university of Chicago, being a member of the football team. Last October he played in a hard inter-class game at the Armour Institute without previous training and strained his heart. He grew gradually worse until the end.

FRANCIS' WHIRLWIND TRIP IS AMAZING EUROPEANS

Can't Understand Energy of St. Louisan Who Convinces Governments in a Day.

PARIS, March 3.—President D. R. Francis is amazing Europe by the rapidity with which he interests its governments in the St. Louis World's Fair.

In a week, he aroused England, which he found in a state of indifference to its great importance.

In one day, he caught the ears of the French government and strengthened the impression already held of the Exposition's importance.

After a remarkable round of receptions, luncheons, dinners, balls and interviews yesterday in this capital, he departed today for Madrid, where he will spend a day or more in audiences with King Alfonso and his ministers.

It is his hope to complete the work in Spain Wednesday so that he may have time to visit other European capitals before going to Berlin for his interview with the Kaiser Tuesday. He expects to be in the German capital by Monday, so that he has outlined a strenuous work for himself in the meantime.

While he would like to visit Rome and see the Italian King, it is probable he will not be able to do so.

But it is quite likely he will visit Brussels and The Hague on his way to Berlin, giving a day to each of them and seeing the rulers as well as the officers of the government.

He will probably stay three days in Berlin.

His fast work is the biggest advertisement the Fair has had in Europe and is doing more to cause it to be generally discussed.

Europeans, who are accustomed to taking their time at doing things, cannot understand the remarkable energy of the St. Louisan.

THE WORK THAT IS MAKING EUROPE WONDER.

In one week he arouses England from indifference to interest and insures $1,000,000 representation at the Fair, after seeing King and ministers.

In one day he saw the President of France and all the members of the cabinet, and strengthened the impression they already had of the Exposition's greatness.

Will see Spanish King and ministers in one day.

Same time allotted for probable visits to Brussels and The Hague.

In three days he expects to convince Germany of the necessity of making a big exhibit.

LONG JOURNEY OF AN INSANE MAN

John Schmidt Was Anxious About the Welfare of His Mother.

Anxiety over the welfare of his widowed mother, living on North Spring street, Belleville, prompted John Schmidt to escape from the Southern Illinois Insane Asylum at Anna, Ill., and walk 100 miles to his home in Belleville.

He eluded the officers who were notified of his escape and were watching for him along the route, slept in barns and haystacks and begged enough food from the farm houses along the road to keep him alive and covered the distance in 60 hours.

Schmidt reached Belleville Monday night in a pitiable condition from privation and exposure. He was arrested by a policeman who was lying in wait at the door of his home but was permitted to stay at home over night.

Tuesday morning, after plenty of food and a night's rest in bed under shelter, he was able to talk of his journey in a fairly rational manner.

He had been working about the asylum buildings. He had concluded that he was sane. He was unable to get money and after the failure of numerous promises of the physician to send him home, he decided to escape.

Friday he saw his chance and walked off the grounds. He knew that notices of his escape would be sent out and he must be wary. When faint from hunger he would appeal to a farmhouse, but only when necessary did he show himself and at no place did he ask for shelter.

Schmidt says he remembers faintly when he went there and that he was bothered with pains in his head. He does not remember much that happened after he reached there, but later he became more rational and remembered his widowed mother, who was dependent upon his support.

SECRET WAS TOO HARD TO KEEP

Best Friend of Anna Irish of Decatur Told of Her Elopement.

Pretty and loyal-minded, but unable to keep a secret without having help, the best friend of Miss Anna Irish, in Decatur, Ill., told all about her elopement before the train had got much farther than the city limits of Decatur.

The serious part of the revelation was that the elopement was only begun and might have been frustrated by prompt action on the part of the bride's parents who had serious objections to the wedding because of religious differences.

Miss Irish had represented to all but her dearest friends that she was going to Adrian, Mich., to visit friends. Only a few persons saw her board the train for St. Louis, but the secret was of too great proportions for the best friend and she told it.

The story she told was that Miss Irish was not going to Michigan, but to St. Louis, where she was to be met by "Bob" Nicholson and they were to be married.

Nicholson is a son of Jerry Nicholson, formerly sheriff at Decatur. He is a traveling man with headquarters at Des Moines, Ia. He is a Protestant, while Miss Irish is a Catholic, and for that reason their wedding was opposed.

Miss Irish is a daughter of M. C. Irish, formerly superintendent of the dining car service of the Wabash Railway, but now a conductor.

Miss Irish left Decatur at 7:10 o'clock Tuesday morning and arrived in St. Louis at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Nicholson met her at Union Station and they went direct to the City Hall and obtained a marriage license.

They intimated that they would try to get a priest to marry them in deference to the bride's religion, but said that failing in that they would be married by a minister.

LOVE COST MANY POUNDS OF SUGAR

Grocer Who Defined Tender Passion in Prosaic Way Must Pay $333.33.

GROCER HATCHER DEFINES LOVE

"Love is a certain sensation, but it don't make you feel much different from usual."

When Ernest Hatcher, the Madison grocer, took the witness stand in his own behalf in the breach of promise suit brought against him by Maude Allen of the same city, and gave his famous definition of love as a "certain sensation, but it don't make you feel much different," he did not know that the particular case of love under consideration was going to cost him in judgment alone $333.33, or the price of 6666⅔ pounds of sugar, to say nothing of the costs of the suit.

Miss Allen, who received a verdict of $333.33 against Mr. Hatcher in the breach of promise suit ended in the circuit court at Edwardsville Monday evening, testified that Hatcher had been engaged to her several years and they had selected several dates for the wedding, but the ceremony was always delayed because of Hatcher's refusal to proceed with the arrangements.

The first day selected was Thanksgiving day, 1901, then New Year's day, 1902, and in July of last year, after visiting his home in Germany, Hatcher broke the engagement.

Miss Allen sought consolation for her injured feelings in the courts and sued for $10,000, and the trial bristled with interesting and sensational incidents.

Hatcher is a young man, quite prosperous and one of the leading business men of the tri-cities. Miss Allen is also quite well known in these cities, and much interest was displayed in the trial.

Present Fiance Was at Hearing.

On eof the conspicuous attendants at the hearing was Miss Klomp, to whom Grocer Hatcher is engaged at present. She is a tall striking blonde, and appeared in court well costumed and very contented. She presented a contrast with the appearance of Miss Allen, who sat in the courtroom clad in deep black, taking only a melancholy interest in the proceedings.

One of the most sensational incidents of the trial was when J. G. Reynolds, a lad of 18, was on the witness stand giving testimony unfavorable to the plaintiff. Mrs. Julia Squires, a sister of Miss Allen, grasped a heavy cane and rushing from her seat among the spectators, dealt the lad three sharp blows before the court officials could interfere. Judge Burroughs ordered Mrs. Squires removed from the courtroom, an order that was executed with difficulty.

During the struggle to get into the courtroom Saturday morning Henry Mangen was pushed over the banisters at the courtroom entrance and fell 25 feet to the tile floor, sustaining a broken shoulder and other injuries.

FEDERAL INJUNCTION RESTRAINS WABASH MEN FROM CALLING STRIK

Several Leaders Avoid Being Served in Order They May Call the Strike If Necessary Wi[illegible] Violating the Court's Order.

WABASH ORDERS AGENTS TO NOT TAKE FREIGHT PENDING SETTLEMENT

Determination to Strike at Noon Had Been Reconsidered by the Men—Demands Were Modified and Life of Ultimatum Extended to 5 O'Clock.

Writs of injunction restraining the committeemen representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen from advising, persuading or coercing the employes of the Wabash Railroad from striking or quitting the service of the company were served on the committeemen in St. Louis at 1 o'clock Tuesday.

The injunction was granted by Judge Adams of the United States District Court.

The situation between the employes of the Wabash and President Ramsey of the company, as it was at that time, was that the order for strike supposed to have been given at for noon Tuesday had been held in abeyance until 5 o'clock, President Ramsey having been given until then to decide upon his course.

The committees representing the men making demands upon the company had presented what was their ultimatum on Monday, threatening a strike at Tuesday noon. Tuesday morning the committees received a letter from President Ramsey asking for further details of their demands.

A reply such as was asked for was delivered to President Ramsey at 12:40.

About that time it developed that President Ramsey had been preparing for the strike and had appeared in the United States Court before Judge Adams and had secured a temporary injunction against th[illegible] members of the committees restrain[illegible] them as noted.

Men Granted Pres. Ramsey Five Hours to Consider Dema[illegible]

Wabash firemen and conductors had given President Ramsey until 5 o'clock this afternoon in which to study the letter they sent him in response to his request for detailed demands and for information as to the actual vote of the members of the two interested orders on the strike proposition.

At 12:40 the committee representing the Wabash employes who had voted to strike, left the Hotel Imperial, where they had been in session during the morning, to deliver a letter to President Ramsey of the Wabash, giving him the particulars of the demands they were making, according to the request in the letter directed to them by Mr. Ramsey Monday evening.

Chief Hannahan of the Brotherhood of Firemen said to the Post-Dispatch as the committee left with the letter: "After we deliver this letter, the next move will be President Ramsey's."

The proposed strike at noon was held in abeyance pending the delivery of this letter, as the committee deemed to be due President Ramsey.

It was after the return of the men from President Ramsey's office that the writs were served.

The men on the road are awaiting the order, according to the reports given out by the committee, and the giving of that order depends entirely upon the reception of the committee by President Ramsey.

President Ramsey said during the morning that, in case a strike occurred, he would probably first hear of it from some station along the line where a train had been abandoned by part of the crew.

Ramsey Says He'll Use A. R. U. Men.

Before this committee had reached the office of President Ramsey, he said: "In case of a strike I think I can keep the road in operation by using some of the men who went out in the A. R. U. strike of 1894, as many of them are anxious to get back to work.

"If the strike takes place it will be due to outside interference. The Wabash employes would not strike if they were left alone.

"I do not expect to have the business of the Wabash tied up, no matter what takes place. We will try to do business."

The letter telling President Ramsey what he wished to know did not reach his office in the Lincoln Trust building until 12:45. It was evident that its delay was the source of great anxiety on the part of President Ramsey and of General Manager Magee, who was in the [illegible] with Mr. Ramsey.

ARTICLES OF FOOD THAT HAVE INCREASED IN PRICE

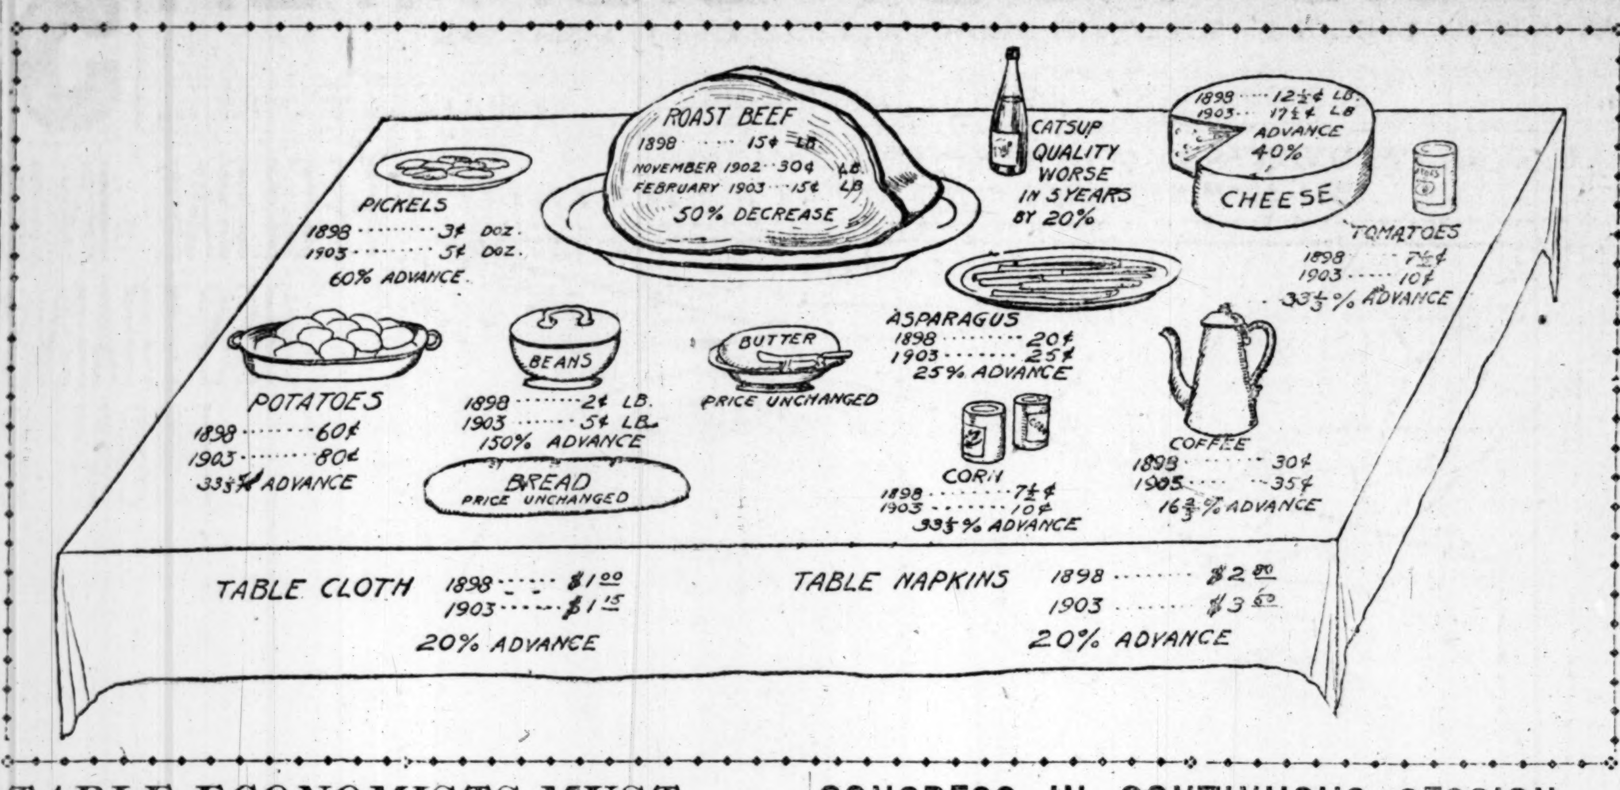

TABLE ECONOMISTS MUST SPEND MORE OR EAT LESS

Grocery Prices Have Advanced in Many Articles, and in Others Where Figures Are Not Higher Quality Is Less Desirable.

The man who would spend no more for groceries than he spent five years ago must eat less.

Prices have advanced so generally on groceries during the five-year period that bread alone is left at the former figure. By a grocer's price list, some other articles may seem to be at the same or a lower price, but they are often adulterated enough to keep pace with the general increase.

The advance is so general that the young man who is contemplating matrimony would do well to study the self-explanatory illustration prepared by the Post-Dispatch, that he may not be disappointed when the grocery bills are presented, or say that he was not warned.

Causes ascribed for these advanced prices include greater profits demanded by the combines that control not only the groceries in some cases, but the containers in which they are shipped, increased freight rates, increased price of labor and the added conveniences demanded by the consumer when buying the goods.

Delivery wagons and fancy packages and other features cost money, and they must figure in the last price.

So while eating your Sunday dinner you can figure the increased cost for your own table.

F. E. Conrad of the Conrad Grocery Co. gives some comparisons for the readers of the Post-Dispatch. He said:

"Prices are materially higher than five years ago, not so much on account of advance in the price of raw materials as on account of the combinations. In manufactured lines, as canned goods, everything is sold at an advance over five years ago. The tin trust, the lumber trust, the railroad combinations and the advance of wages contribute to this.

"Cheese, pickles and potatoes have also advanced, the last named from natural causes, the others from increased cost of handling.

"Cereals are especially high, the price of rolled oats having doubled. Beans have gained 150 per cent in the five years.

"Some things not increased in price have deteriorated in quality by adulteration. Condiments suffer this way. Take catsup, a universally used condiment. I venture to say the average bottle is not as pure by 20 per cent as five years ago.

"Tea and coffee and even pepper are quoted higher now for even quality.

"Just at present beef is not materially higher than five years ago, but the experiences with prices of a few months ago when the entire country was up in arms over the prices will be remembered by every householder."

CITIZENS OPPOSE CITIZEN SOLDIERS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3.—Representative James Lynam received today the following remarkable petition concerning the $100,000 militia appropriation:

"Gentlemen: We, the citizens of St. Louis, state of Missouri, ask our representatives to revise the military law in this state.

"Whereas, Walsh Zouaves, Busch Zouaves, Rainwater Rifles, Italian Military, the First Regiment and several other cadets should be retired.

"Resolved, That no more commissions or charters be issued, as they are of no benefit to the state, only masquerading themselves, scaring horses and breaking rigs, going into camp and cutting up, which is of no use to the citizens.

"Resolved, That this bill prohibit cadets and posses getting a charter under assumed names.

"Resolved, That we, the citizens, recognize only state militia and United States soldiers that pass a satisfactory moral and physical examination before they can get a commission, which is sufficient and ample with the naval reserve.

"Resolved, That no man be enlisted under 18 years of age and that governor's staff enforce this law, thereby securing ...ned and more efficient ... committee. J. ..."

CONGRESS IN CONTINUOUS SESSION UNTIL IT ENDS WEDNESDAY NOON

House Reading Clerks' Voices Being Exhausted, Capitol Policeman Given a Job and Causes Much Amusement and Wins Applause With His Fog-Horn Tones

WASHINGTON, March 3.—When the House reconvened at 11 o'clock this morning the prospect was that it might remain in continuous session until tomorrow noon. Despite the fact that the session last night was prolonged till midnight, there was a fairly large attendance on the floor and the galleries were well filled.

The Senate will remain in continuous session until it expires by limitation at noon tomorrow.

In the House, Mr. Cannon presented the conference report on the sundry civil bill. He pleaded with the minority to dispense with the reading of the report in extenso, but Mr. Richardson was obdurate and refused consent. A very amusing scene followed.

The voices of the reading clerks who officiated yesterday having been worn out by the ceaseless calling of the roll, a member of the capitol police force was drafted today. He had at one time been a reading clerk of the Maryland House of Delegates and later an auctioneer.

He had a foghorn voice, and, in reading figures his tones gradually ascended like an auctioneer in the exercise of his profession knocking down goods to the highest bidder.

The members of the House as well as the spectators in the galleries were convulsed with uncontrollable laughter, which changed suddenly to handclapping.

The new clerk, believing that some acknowledgment of this demonstration was due, suspended the reading to bow right and left.

This grotesque proceeding only increased the merriment and brought down a storm of applause. The confusion became so great that Mr. Goldfogle protested against the clerk's action as unseemly, and the chair was obliged to admonish members to preserve order.

The program in the Senate for the closing legislative day is to take a recess at 5 o'clock until 9 o'clock tomorrow. Before 5 o'clock probably it is expected all conference reports except on the naval bill will be agreed to.

An understanding is that the Aldrich bill will not be pressed.

During the day the Philippine tariff bill will be called up and a statement by someone in opposition will be made that it cannot pass. This will practically clear the decks and the senators can avoid the usual all-night session preceding the end of a Congress.

BILLS AWAITING FINAL ACTION.

Sundry civil appropriation bill agreed upon.
Naval bill still in conference.
General deficiency still in conference.
Statehood still pending in Senate (dead).
Aldrich bill still pending in Senate (dead.)
Philippine tariff bill on Senate calendar.
Eight-hour-labor bill on Senate calendar.
Ship subsidy tied up in House committee (dead).

DON'T WANT TO BE MAYOR

Judge Cook Is Well Satisfied to Wear the Ermine at Three Thousand Dollars a Year.

Judge Silas Cook of the East St. Louis city court, whose name has been mentioned as a candidate for mayor on the Nonpartisan ticket, authorizes the statement that he is not a candidate. He has three years yet as judge of the city court. The position pays $3000 a year, whereas the mayoralty, if he were successful, would pay only $2500 a year. He would be compelled to resign from the bench before he could run for mayor.

City Treasurer John Niemes also denies that he is a candidate for re-election. He says the law prevents the city treasurer from serving more than one term.

RUN DOWN.

When a phrase is coined out of world wide human experience it is apt to be brief and expressive. We are "run-down" we say in the endeavor to describe a relaxed physical condition, and all the terminology of medicine could not more expressively describe the actual condition than that every day phrase. It suggests the clock, perfect mechanically, but failing to record the passage of time because it is run-down.

People who have that tired out, run-down feeling will find new life in the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great medicine is far more than a tonic. It cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food of which alone all physical strength is made.

"The reason I delayed writing was because I wanted to wait one year after I had taken the medicine before giving my statement, and now I can send a good, conscientious testimonial," writes Mr. Chas. H. Sergeant, of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio. "During the summer and fall of 1896 I became all 'run-down,' nerves were out of order and stomach out of order. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and, thanks to you for your advice, I used six bottles; and since I stopped taking it about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is go...

HOUSE TAKES UP DR. BROOKS' BOODLE CHARGE

Allegations Read From Monday's Post-Dispatch at Mr. Murphy's Request.

ST. LOUISAN DEMANDS FULL INVESTIGATION

By a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3.—When the House met today Representative Murphy of St. Louis sent to the clerk's desk a copy of Monday's Post-Dispatch and requested to have read the article containing Dr. Brooks' charge that bribery was rampant at the state capitol and $1000 bills were now freely circulating here.

The drop of a pin could have been heard as the clerk proceeded to read the story. Speaker Whitecotton leaned over anxiously and, when the clerk finished, recognized the St. Louis member.

"Now, Mr. Speaker," said Murphy, "I desire to introduce the following resolution, which is given herewith:

"Resolved, That the speaker of this House appoint a committee of three to investigate the charge that bribery prevails in Jefferson City, that charge being made in a sermon delivered in Jefferson City on Sunday, March 1.

"Resolved, That said committee be given power to examine witnesses, administer oaths, that they be furnished a stenographer and that they report within five days after the agreement."

There was a prompt second for the adoption of the resolution and then Leonard of St. Louis, amid great confusion, moved to have the whole matter sent to the private corporations committee.

"I hope no such motion will prevail," said Murphy. "I am in earnest about this matter. If there is corruption going on among the members of this House, the fact should be made publicly known and the offenders properly punished.

"Let Us Have the Evidence."

"If Dr. Brooks has any evidence, let him come before the committee and if he has not, then let us clear the House of Representatives from this serious reflection."

Williams of Scott, who followed Murphy, declared that "I for one want to see the St. Louis gentleman's resolution passed. If there are men in this House with $1000 bills in their pockets we should know it. I would like to discover such a man. If there is one such here, then his place is in the penitentiary."

Half a dozen others spoke along the same lines and then Representative Davidson of Marion, one of the strongest of the House leaders, rose.

"If," he said, "this is to be a sincere investigation into the charge that certain members of this body are being bought at so much per vote, I am for it. However, I wish it distinctly understood that the inquiry must extend to another evil which I know is dominant. The distribution of passes by railroad companies is as serious violation of the law. Let this committee be empowered to summon witnesses and ascertain the name of every man here who is riding on free transportation.

"I believe we can get some startling information on that point. I am in favor, Mr Speaker, of expelling any member who is guilty of conduct unbecoming the integrity of a member of the House.

"The sooner we purge ourselves of such men, if there are any, the better."

At the close of his remarks, Mr. Davidson moved to have the subject made special order of business for 3 o'clock to day.

"At that time," he said, "I will have an amendment to offer to Mr. Murphy's resolution."

The motion carried, and one of the most exciting periods in the life of the forty-second General Assembly was brought to a temporary close.

There is no doubt in the minds of the legislators that the school book legislation has prompted the use of money here.

Mr. Davidson and other members of the committee have been quietly investigating these charges of boodle.

Among other things, they discovered that a certain member tried to prevent the school book bill from being printed. The request was made on E. W. Stephens, editor of the State Tribune. Failing in this, the report in question, according to the committee's information, went to the printer who had charge of the bill.

"It will be worth $10 to you to stick that bill in the stove," is the language ascribed by the legislator. Chairman Davidson is now considering the formulation of charges to have this member expelled from the House.

Davidson Offers Sweeping Substitute.

When the House reconvened, Representative J. F. Davidson of Marion County presented the following substitute resolution for that offered by Murphy:

"Whereas charges have been frequently made both from the pulpit and by the press reflecting seriously on the good character of members of the Forty-second general assembly and that a full investigation may be made as to the truth or falsity of any of said charges to the end that no innocent man may suffer for the misdeeds of the guilty there be, and that right and justice may be done, be it

"Resolved, That the speaker of the House appoint a committee of five members of the House, each of whom shall qualify under oath that he has not asked for or received nor traveled on free railroad transportations since he was sworn in as a member of the Forty-second General Assembly of Missouri, with full power to sit during the sessions of the House, to send for and compel the attendance of witnesses to administer oaths and make the fullest investigation, and report the truth or falsity of any and all charges of fraud, corruption or any other violation of their oaths of office pertaining to their duties as members of the Forty-second General Assembly made against member of said body, which committee shall report its findings to this body as early as practicable, if any member of the body may be found guilty of any of said charges to the end that said member or members may be duly arraigned before the bar of the House and be expelled therefrom."

I Will Cure You of RHEUMATISM

Else No Money Is Wanted.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism, and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For 16 years I made 2000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds, the cost is only $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 2000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you, anyway. If it fails, it is free.

Address Dr. Shoop, Box 688, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

CRIPPLE STABBED HIS BROTHER

Fratricidal Quarrel at Granite City Ending in Wounding of John Quinn.

James Quinn, a cripple, who resides with his parents in a community known as the "Little Six," in Granite City, seriously stabbed his brother, John Quinn, Monday night, while disputing about family affairs. The wounded man is expected to die. The wounds were inflicted with a penknife, but there is one gash that ranges from the top of the forehead diagonally across the face. This cut severed the nose and narrowly missed severing the right eye. Dr. Reynolds was summoned. He said the injuries might terminate fatally.

James Quinn, the crippled assailant, gave himself up to the police, telling them he had killed his brother. James Quinn is about 20 years of age, and his brother 18.

Smoking Manners.

Rapid smoking is as bad as rapid eating, or worse. It is also "bad form," whether it is pipe, cigar or cigarette. Many persons have smoked all their lives, and yet do not know how to smoke. TURF FIRMS MERE SHELLS, SAYS REPORT

Investigating Committee Announces Its Findings to the Senate and Recommends Passage of Stringent Laws.

DISCRETIONARY ORDER COMPANIES SCORED

Failure of Inquisition, Which Has Been Expensive, to Develop New Information Causes Comment.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3.—The Senate committee, composed of Martin of Soline, Nelson of St. Louis, Jewell of Kansas City, McDavid of Springfield and Voories of St. Joseph, appointed to investigate turf investment companies, bucketshops and get-rich-quick concerns, submitted its report today.

About twenty companies were made the subject of the committee's inquisition and over three hundreds witnesses were examined.

The committee divides grain companies into three classes, as follows:

First-class—Commonly called boards of trades, those companies whose members thereof are organized for the purpose, and who sell or buy grain and futures on commission and who can and do deliver the actual grain or other products bought or sold.

Second-class—Commonly known as bucket-shops, those who buy and sell futures or grain, not intending or expecting to deliver the actual product.

Third class—those who style themselves brokers or commission men, those grain companies who handle what is known as "discretionary orders," the money being deposited with them to be invested by them on margins or futures, according to their discretion, without direction from the patron, or who pretend to buy and sell futures and grain, but who in reality hold themselves out to the public without actual participation in the markets and who never did in their experience handle a bushel of actual grain.

Companies' Methods Border on Crime.

Concerning the third class, the committee says:

"The evidence discloses that the methods of these companies often border on the criminal process of obtaining money under false pretenses, yet, hedged about by a contract, which endeavors to relieve them of this unlawful appropriation of their customers' money.

"These fake, illegitimate bogus concerns," the committee comments, "should be weeded out of the business and, to this end, we would recommend the amendment of our criminal laws, affixing thereto a penalty that would drive these spurious and order grain companies out of business."

Relative to turf investment companies, the committee has this to say:

"These concerns were presumably prosperous until the examination which was begun by the grandjury, instigated by the circuit attorney of St. Louis, Joseph W. Folk, and your committee. When the crash came company after company closed its doors and refused to pay back to depositors on demand, and upon examination of these companies we found them to be mere shells, with little or no money or available assets on hand, and the millions of dollars handled by them, either paid out in dividends, squandered and gambled away upon race tracks, or absorbed by the officers and managers of said companies."

Evidence Shows That Arnold Is in Mexico.

"The evidence discloses the fact that E. J. Arnold & Co. is in Mexico, the books of said company being in the hands of the grandjury."

Gold bond companies and home co-operative investment concerns also come in for a share of criticism.

The committee recommends legislation designed to prohibit the operation of get-rich-quick schemes. It is proposed to draft a law making it a misdemeanor for any company or corporation to accept what are popularly termed "discretion bets," or "discretion investments," without an express written contract to that effect. Also a law against bucket shops. The minimum penalty is placed at $500 and the maximum $1500.

The Senate's report is surprising to the legislators inasmuch no new facts are developed and the information contained therein is a reiteration of that printed from time to time in the newspapers. It is said the committee has piled up an enormous expense account.

Representative Leonard of St. Louis is chairman of the House committee which was appointed to ascertain evidence bearing on turf investment and kindred companies. He stated to the Post-Dispatch today that he would probably offer an amendment to the Senate report which dealt with several matters that appear irrelevant to the matter at issue.

WIFE'S NIECE ACCUSES HIM.

Ernest Riddell, Aged 43, Prosecuted by Girl.

Ernest Riddell, 43 years old, of 321 Winstanley avenue, East St. Louis, was held in default of $2500 bond Tuesday morning, charged with criminal assault. The prosecuting witness, Annie Delicke, 13 years old, a niece of Riddell's wife, has been making her home with the Riddells.

The arraignment was before Justice of the Peace Boyne.

CONQUEROR II, IN FORM, SHOULD WIN HANDICAP

Track at New Orleans in Excellent Shape and Good Sport Is Promised by Tuesday's Card.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—
Best selections today:
McWilliams, place first race.
Nettie Regent in third race.
By Way in fifth race.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—The entries for today's races are very good, and if the track retains its present good condition the sport will be interesting. The entries and handicaps are:

First race, one mile—McWilliams, De Rezke second, Ernest Parham third.

Bengal	112	Bondage	100
McWilliams	112	Decoration	100
Ernest Parham	112	Watkins Overton	100
Great American	112	Noweta	95
De Reszke	100

McWilliams looks the best of this lot. He has shown good enough form in recent races to beat this bunch. Bar accident, he looks like a sure winner. De Reszke, if he runs his race, will beat the balance. He is rounding to form and the light weight favors him. Ernest Parham is also dangerous and is certain to be among the first three at the finish.

Second race, one mile—Barbara Frietchie first, Old Hutch second, Nitrate third.

Nitrate	115	Thane	96
Old Hutch	110	Ahumada	97
Carl Kahler	104	Ray	97
Tom Kingsley	104	Shrine	92
Provost	104	Athlana	92
Barbara Freitchie	102	Birch Broom	87

Barbara Frietchie can win in this race if her people bet. She is good and fit and can beat this kind of horses. Old Hutch is the one she has to beat. The latter is a better horse now than ever before. Nitrate should be third. He is a consistent horse, but looks outweighted. If rains come up and the track gets heavy the first two have no chance.

Third race, one mile and a quarter, selling—Nettie Regent first, Jack Doyle second, Leflare third.

Azim	101	*Nettie Regent	97
Locochee	104	*Leflare	96
Ceylon	106	*Accolade	94
*Jack Doyle	103	Florrie S.	92
Lalse Lead	99	Hine Abbott	91
Tammany Chief	98	*Deloraine	91

Nettie Regent looks like the best thing of the day. She is meeting very ordinary company and is in very light. She should make a runaway race of it. Jack Doyle and Leflare are the dangerous ones. They can beat the balance. This looks like a spot where one can even up for past losses.

Fourth race, one mile and seventy yards, handicap—The Conqueror II first, Barbara Frietchie second, Major Tenny third.

Nitrate	115	Huzzah	96
Imp. Albula	109	Maj. Tenny	95
The Conqueror II	104	Athlana	94
Barbara Freitchie	100	Bud Embrey	93
Monas	100	Jena	90

If the Conqueror runs his race he will win here. He is the form and figures, but is a bad betting proposition, as he is very unreliable. Barbara Frietchie looks the best of the others. It is more than likely that she will start in the second race, as that looks like an easier spot. Major Tenney should be third. He is getting good again, and if he runs the race he did the last time out will beat the balance.

Fifth race, seven furlongs—By Way first, Floyd K. second, Glen Rice third.

Showman	105	Farmer Jim	95
Frank Rice	105	Melbourne Eclipse	95
Star and Garter	102	Floyd K.	95
Brookston	101	Mauser	92
Sweet Nell	100	By Ways	90
Welcome Light	95	Glen Rice	90

If By Way loses this race it will be either the fault of the rider or because she is a dead one. She showed herself to be a pretty shifty sort of filly, capable of beating a much better lot than she meets in this race. Floyd K. should be second. He got caught in the barrier in his last race, so that performance will have to be thrown out. Glen Rice and Frank Rice figure the best of the others with the preference being given to the former.

Sixth race, selling, one mile—Alfred C. first, Resselas second, Denny Duffy third.

Alfred C.	132	*Meran	117
Lofter	127	*Banish	117
Aratoma	127	*John Bull	117
*Denny Duffy	122	*Marion Lynch	115
Chorus Boy	122	*Dr. Hart	112
*Rasselas	120	*Hucena	110

*Five pounds apprentice allowance claimed.

Alfred C. has proved himself a good weight carrier. He has the form of this lot and should find no trouble in winning. A peculiar thing about this horse is that he generally runs bad races when at a short price. However, he looks much the best of this lot and should win easily. Rasselas should beat the balance. It is his first start since early in the meeting. He has been working well and is said to be fit. Denny Duffy should be third.

Invitation to Ghosts.

Nothing would give me more pleasure than to have a visit from an inhabitant of another world. I extend the most cordial invitation to one and all of the dead. Why, if they can communicate with us, should they confine themselves to so few, and these few shady adventurers who want to make money out of their privileged communications? Why not visit me?

These medicinal elements act so vorably upon the stomach, that this gan obtains for itself the elements cessary for creating new flesh, muscle ve and for making rich red blood.

When the stomach acts easily and urally, a desire is created for good d food and a good appetite is the result.

th cod-liver oil as formerly taken medicinal elements which it con- ned were too often unable to counteract the harm that was done by he obnoxious grease that enveloped hem.

Now that in Vinol we have those ame elements separated from the vile- tasting fat, we have a tonic and re- builder that is simply marvelous in its action.

The following is a letter that will explain itself:

"This is to certify that I have used ix bottles of Vinol, and have found it f great value as an appetizer and onic in general debility. I have received so much benefit from its use hat I gladly furnish this testimonial in order that others may be induced to give it a trial and prove to themselves its recuperative powers."—Mrs. ELIZABETH FEENEY, Waterbary, Conn.

Strange Features Develop in the Suit Over the Hagaman Fortunes.

WOMAN IN THE CASE WAS COACHMAN'S WIFE

After She Became Rich Man's Wife the Mysterious Dr. Fowler Enters Into the Drama Which Is Now in the Courts.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The story of the disappearance of the $1,500,000 left by Theodore Hagaman, develop a story of unusual features.

Mrs. Frances Freeland Delabarre, formerly Mrs. Theodore Hagaman, was prior to her marriage to Mr. Hagaman, the wife of William H. Smith, who was coachman for Mr. Hagaman. Mr. Smith, who is now married again, makes his home on a farm near Wallingford, Conn., and is employed as a ticket taker at the Grand Opera House in New Haven, where he has been a familiar figure for years.

The mystery of the death of Hagaman, and the disappearance of his fortune, for which his relatives are now suing his wife, is complicated by the attempt of Dr. R. C. Fowler, a mining promoter, who secured $300,000 from Hagaman's widow, to make it appear that the entire proceeding was hatched for business reasons by Andrew D. Meloy, a fellow promoter.

Mr. Unger, attorney for the Hagaman family, has laid all the facts in the case before District Attorney Jerome and Coroner Brown and has asked an investigation into the circumstances attending Mr. Hagaman's death, intimating there was a conspiracy.

Claims Set Up by the Heirs.

A brother of Hagaman, who represents himself and his sisters, claims that when the man died in 1900 his estate was worth $1,500,000, whereas the widow claimed it was only $2500. An alleged settlement with the heirs for a small sum is a feature of the case.

The matter came before the surrogate on a motion to set aside the order referring it to a referee.

Mrs. Delabarre has separated from Dr. Walter E. Delabarre of 222 Central Park South, to whom she was married last July. Dr. Delabarre admitted that he had separated from his wife, but denied a report that he intended bringing a $50,000 damage suit for alienation against Dr. R. C. Fowler, the promoter of mining companies, who figures largely in the suit over Mr. Hagaman's estate. The Delabarres separated after they returned from their honeymoon trip, Mrs. Delabarre going to her apartment at the Waldorf and Dr. Delabarre to his home in Central Park South.

Speechless, but Not Helpless.

In her testimony before John A. Foley, the referee, Mrs. Delabarre testified that her husband suffered a slight shock a few days before his death. It was such a shock as might have resulted from the administering of certain drugs, and Mrs. Delabarre told the referee that it affected only his speech and did not render him helpless.

In a letter written by Mrs. Hagaman shortly after the death of her husband, she said:

"Theodore suffered a severe paralytic shock, from which he never recovered. It rendered him helpless and undoubtedly resulted in his death."

In her earlier testimony Mrs. Hagaman said she had employed no nurse for her husband, taking care of him herself, except for some assistance given to her during the nights by Maurice Willis, a brother-in-law of Dr. Flower.

"He didn't like nurses," said Mrs. Delabarre. "I told him I would care for him and attend to him always."

Of the effect of the stroke of paralysis Mrs. Delabarre testified:

"He knew me just the same. He could purse up his lips and kiss me and press my hand, and he knew all the time, and knew well—but he had a thickening. It was hard for him to articulate."

Flowers Placed on the Grave.

Mr. Hagaman was buried in a cemetery in Dutchess County, and the chief mourners at his bier were Mrs. Hagaman and Dr. Flower, who supported and comforted the sorrowing widow. Mrs. Hagaman ordered that a bouquet of red roses should be placed upon the grave of her husband every week. That order is still in existence. In the snow which now covers that grave are several withered bouquets of red roses, but so far as is known the widow has not visited the cemetery since last June, when she married Dr. Walter E. Delabarre.

Dr. Flowers Has Spectacular Life.

That Dr. Flower looms up strongly as the principal figure in this tale of vanishing millions is not astounding to those who have known of Dr. Flower in the past. Doctor of medicine, doctor of laws and doctor of divinity, lecturer on mesmerism, professional hypnotist, organizer of the R. C. Flower Medical Co., and promoter of dozens of short-lived "wildcat" joint-stock concerns, Dr. R. C. Flower has for several years been a man of mystery.

In Rutherford, N. J., stands a many turreted "castle," perched high on the side of a commanding hill and regarded by the local folk with mingled admiration and dislike.

Here, with a retinue of servants sufficient for the needs of a baronial hall of the mediaeval ages, live Dr. R. C. Flower and his family during the summer. A stable filled with high-grade horse stock, six carriages and enough automobiles to meet the requirements of a country gentleman, provide transportation for Dr. Flower and add to his enjoyment during the warm weather, while a handsome residence in upper New York is magnificently fitted up for his use during the winter.

Outwardly at least he is a man of wealth and importance in the community, and in the town of Rutherford he is looked upon as the local millionaire, unknown personally to the people of the town, and declining to know any of them. At times, however, the great windows of the "castle" blaze with light, and scores of guests from New York attest the doctor's hospitality.

A Modern Cagliostro.

This magnificence is all due to the weird hypnotic power which the doctor is commonly credited with possessing. Only on the hypothesis that he is the modern reincarnation of Cagliostro is his success explained.

In his day, along in the late eighties, Dr. R. C. Flower was one of the greatest advertisers in the country. Hardly a newspaper east or west but carried a standing advertisement of the merits of Dr. Flower as a specialist in all diseases. From this success grew the Flower Medical Society, with its huge, palatial "Sanitarium" in Boston, which for a time paid dividends of a dollar a month upon shares costing $25.

Then with the crash of that institution came the removal of Dr. Flower to New York, the establishment of offices in "Wall street" [illegible] with [illegible] many other schemes and made a success of it. He rarely gave exhibitions of hypnotism, preferring to practice in private, in unusual manners and for large fees.

Some such strange influence is alleged to have been exerted over Mr. Hagaman and his wife. Before the death of the millionaire he had invested largely in the schemes of the doctor, and Mrs. Hagaman did not discontinue this practice. Just what sums Dr. Flower has received may never be known.

When a young man falls in love the object of his affections must first seem pleasing to his eye, therefore every girl with a desire to marry should see to it that her personality is attractive and pleasing—her eyes clear and her complexion faultless; her hair should be luxuriant and closely crown her with a diadem of glory; luxuriant eyebrows and lashes should define the expression and give character and brightness to her countenance, until a flame of mingled magnetism is caught by the inspiration of physical splendor to encompass her entire personality and glorify a specimen of perfect womanhood.

GEN. CLAY DRIVES FORMER WIFE AWAY

His Anger at Young Husband Made Her Fearful of Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 3.—Gen. Cassius M. Clay, "Sage of Whitehall," the noted abolitionist and man of many duels, is again in a rage and even the two hired men on his place are trembling in fear of him.

Two weeks ago he induced Dora Clay Brock, his former child-wife, to sell out her home at Pinkard, given to her by the general after her marriage to Brock. He gave her silverware and valuable presents presented to him while minister to Russia.

She and Brock went to live at Whitehall. After a few days Gen. Clay complained at the presence of Brock in the house and he was asked to leave. The girl objected to Brock going and Brock would not go away alone. This brought on a clash, and, as in former differences at the cheerless mansion, Gen. Clay flew into a rage which was uncontrollable. Brock and his wife left.

Gen. Clay is about 93. It was about six years ago that he married Dora Richardson, a domestic employed in his kitchen. Two years later the girl disagreed with him and he divorced her. He loved her to distraction and bestowed gifts of money and real estate upon her. In a few months she married Riley Brock, a young man of her set, and Gen. Clay gave them a home at Pinkard. He continued to send her presents until recently, when he prevailed upon her to return to Whitehall. Where she has gone no one seems to know. It is believed that Gen. Clay will finally relent and they will return to Whitehall. His whole thought is of the girl, and, although blind, he continually asks to see her.

IN PITY FOR WOMAN EXPOSE A THIEF

BOSTON, March 3.—Out of pity for a woman who had attempted to kill herself through grief over the loss of jewels and money, persons whose names are not made known gave the police information which led to the arrest of Jacob Brenner on the charge of larceny of the articles.

In court he was held for the grandjury.

Mrs. Jacobovitch owned the jewels. She went shopping and carried $700 and her diamonds, valued at $28,000, in a bag which she had tied above her knee. During the afternoon she lost the bag. The police got no trace of the jewels, and the advertisement brought no response.

Last Thursday she tried to kill herself. The newspapers printed stories of this incident, which came to the attention of certain persons, who said they were moved to pity for the woman and decided not to shield Brenner, who had told them he had found jewels and money in the street. Brenner gave the jewels to the police and these were identified by the owner. He denied knowledge of the money. Later the police got a suggestion from unknown scurces that Mrs. Brenner be searched, and this was done, $400 being recovered.

The officers of the Merion believe there is every probability of the ship being saved, although it is feared that the rock has pierced her bottom forward. All the passengers have been removed and have proceeded to Liverpool by the way of Dublin.

WHALESMAN WILL SEEK NORTH POLE

Capt. Coffin, Leader of Ziegler Second Expedition, Knows Arctic Regions.

BACKER WILL DEPEND ON JUDGMENT OF OLD SAILOR

Old Saying Is That If Ever Pole Is Discovered Its Finder Will Be Man Who Has Chased Whales.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, March 3.—It has long been a saying in New Bedford that if ever the North Pole is discovered the finder will be a man who has chased whales and tried-out blubber for a living.

Recently the old saying has been revived, and comment on the Arctic region, its rigors, its discouragements and its failures, has been quickened by the selection of Capt. Edwin Coffin of Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, to command the Fiala-Ziegler arctic expedition, which will start from Tromso, Norway, next June, in an effort to reach the pole.

The old-time whalers, who meet at various downtown lounging places, are already betting in a small way among themselves that Capt. Coffin will get pretty far North, and then go a mile or two nearer to the pole than any man has thus far been. Those who know him best say he will reach the pole, but the captain himself is as mum as a Cape Cod oyster. He will talk, he says, after he returns from his quest, and not a word until then.

Profiting by the mistakes made by scientific men in the past, Mr. Ziegler, it is said, has decided to leave everything to the judgment of an old whaler, and experienced whaling masters are of opinion that he has made no mistake.

Coffin Has Been Sailor Since Boyhood.

Capt. Coffin has followed the sea since boyhood. He was born and reared in the Vineyard, is 50 years old, and has had a great deal of experience in the Arctic.

It is rumored that it is Capt. Coffin's intention to take an entire Yankee crew with him, but on this point he will not talk. Mr. Ziegler, he says, has commanded silence, and certain it is that Capt. Coffin knows how to obey. His intention is to provision the America for about three years, but he does not believe the expedition will last that long. One of the last things to be taken aboard will be a pack of sledge dogs. They will be bought in Russia. The provisions, with some few exceptions, will be American goods.

The America is the same ship in which the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition of two years ago was made. She is one of the best known of the old Dundee whalers, and was formerly known as the Esquimo, a sister ship of the U. S. S. Thetis. As the Esquimo she was for many years engaged in the Greenland whale fisheries, and had a reputation as a sturdy old ice breaker, with uncrushable ribs.

Capt. Coffin expects to leave for Norway about March 1, and from indications among certain sailormen in New Bedford and Edgartown he will not be alone on the way over. He made an effort to secure the service of George Fred Tilton, an experienced whalesman of Martha's Vineyard, but Tilton has already engaged to go this year as mate of the steam whaler Belvidere of San Francisco.

Tilton Walked Down From Point Barrow.

"If they want me to give up that berth," he says, "they can make it worth my while." Tilton is the man who walked down from Point Barrow to civilization in 1897 to bring word of the starving whalemen in the ice at that place. That was a 300-mile trip through desperate country, with only one dog sledge. He lived for days on raw frozen fish, and was compelled to kill two of the dogs to feed the others. It was one chance in a thousand of coming out alive. He accepted it and won.

Tilton is a huge blond, with an ever smiling mouth. He has had a long and varied experience at sea, and is just the kind of man Coffin desires for his first mate.

Two expeditions are almost sure to start this spring from the United States for arctic exploration. Commander Robert E. Peary will head the second in a dash for the pole.

The Peary Arctic Club has recently sold the steamer Windward, in which Commander Peary has made three trips to the Arctic. The Windward was given to the explorer five years ago by Alfred C. Harmsworth of London and although she has twice been thoroughly repaired and newly equipped with engines of high power, she is not deemed fit for the further prosecution of Commander Peary's arctic work.

The problem now confronting the Peary Arctic Club is to secure a suitable craft for Commander Peary's next expedition. There are only about half a dozen vessels in the world suited to work in the far north, and they are all large steam whalers. As the last whaling season was a profitable one the owners of the vessels are not anxious to sell at a reasonable figure.

Commander Peary has recently had some correspondence as to the Stellare Polare, the powerful steam whaler used by the Duke d'Abruzzi in polar exploration, and if this vessel can be procured at a reasonable figure she will probably be fitted out this spring for a Peary expedition.

If a suitable vessel is bought the Peary Arctic Club will put in operation plans to raise the necessary money to carry on the work. It will call for an increase in membership of 200, each member to contribute $1000. Commander Peary has estimated that $150,000 will be needed for a successful expedition.

APPRECIATION FROM NOBILITY.

Sir John Tyler, M. D., Commends Orangeine, the Great Corrective for Headaches, Cold, Grip and Everyday Ills.

Chevalier J. P. Spanier writes, from Rome, Italy: "Please send me by mail, registered, as usual, with bill, 300 powders of Orangeine. I would not get along without them. Also send same to Sir John Tyler, Portland Place, London, whose card I enclose. Sir John generally disapproves of patent remedies, but expresses absolute belief in Orangeine. He is one of the greatest physicians in England, and attends royalty."

Thought He Was a Forger.

From Youth's Companion.

In 1826 Josiah Quincy, then a young man, but recently graduated from Harvard, was invited by Judge Story, a member of the supreme bench, to accompany him to Washington. Judge Story was one of the great talkers at a period when conversation was considered a sort of second profession. In "Figures of the Past," Mr. Quincy gives an incident of the journey from Boston to Washington, which was made by stage coach.

"The first night of our journey was spent at Ashford, in Connecticut, where we arrived ... in the evening; and here the bother of ... local currency, as it was afterward called, was ... ed upon our attention.

"The bills of local banks would not circulate ... the town in which they were issued, and ... provide himself with United States notes. ... offered the landlord a Salem bill in payment for ... supper the man stared at it as if it had been ... wampum of the Indians or the shell money ... the South Sea Islanders.

"'This is not good,' said the host, 'and I ... you must know it.'

"'I know it is good,' retorted the judge, testi... 'And I'll tell you how I know it. I made it ...'

"... reply of which the landlord could make ... unless it were the confession of a forg... mend matters; and it was fortunate ... with some national notes, ... culty. The explanation was ... president of a Salem bank.

Hackneys and Daschunds

From the New York Tribune.

Hackneys of skyscraping knee action are to some extent freaks in horseflesh and of little more real value to mankind than dachshunds, the sawed-off dwarfs among dogs. The little child who said of this ridiculous splayfooted, bowlegged caricature of the canine rase that it must have been born under a bureau hit the mark exactly. The nose-smiting, cloud-capping horses that try to throw their front legs over their ears at every stride are grotesque aberrations from sound and admirable types. They and the dachshunds should disappear together.

HIS DRUM COST $9.

At Least the Other Boys Admit Price to the Owner.

From the Washington Post.

There's a small boy up on Columbia Heights whose implicit confidence in his dad has caused him to have a pretty strenuous time of it since Christmas.

Among the Christmas gifts which his father gave him was a drum. The price of the drum was written in ink on the head of it—"90," meaning 90 cents. Before bestowing the drum upon the youngster the dad added a naught to the "90," a "$" mark before the 9, thus making it obvious to the boy when he got it that the drum had cost $9.

The boy, of course, began to exhibit the drum to his playmates on Christmas and to tell them that it had cost $9. His companions couldn't see any $9 worth in the drum and they gave him the laugh. Those that laughed the boy proceeded to thrash. He'd hold the skeptical one down with his knees and demand:

"Now, how much did my drum cost?"

If the under boy would reply "Nine dollars," the owner of the drum would let him up, but if he declined to make that admission the boy with the drum held him down until he did.

The boy with the drum has pretty well cleaned out all of the boys in his neighborhood and there hasn't been a day since Christmas that he hasn't had two or three scraps over his drum and the marked price thereof. He is a scrapper of prowess, and the only way the boys he has licked over the drum question can get back at him is to retreat to their front yards when they see him coming along with his drum and bawl at him:

"That thing cost $9—aw, g'wan!"

Waiter: What do you mean by begging here? Get out of the house at once.

Beggar: Oh, I need only a few cents more to pay for a good dinner, and if you let me alone I'll stay here and eat it!—Fliegende Blaetter.

A Chance for a Grand Gathering.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

The first white child born in Chicago has just died again. This sad circumstance suggests what seems to us to be an excellent plan of getting a lot of worthy people together in order that they may exchange ideas and reminiscences. Let everyone who has documents to show that he or she was the first white child born in Chicago, all the surviving body servants of George Washington, every oldest Yale graduate, each oldest Mason, all surviving members of the Light Brigade who took part in the charge at Balaklava and every living person who saw Napoleon, go to Baltimore for the purpose of taking part in a grand reunion there at the time the newspaper poets and humorists hold their convention in that city. This, according to present plans, is to be in May. It would, of course, be impossible for Baltimore to accommodate all these celebrities and the humorists and poets at the same time, but it is a short run over to Washington, where there are plenty of hotels, and as Congress will probably not be in session then it is reasonable to suppose that the crowds could be taken care of in some way. It would be a grand thing for all concerned if the humorists and the other estimable people to whom we have referred could get together for mutual benefit and pleasure, and the meeting in Baltimore would afford an excellent opportunity. We fully appreciate the fact that Baltimore has no hall big enough to accommodate the vast assemblage which would result from an adoption of our suggestion, but it will be warm down there in May and we have no doubt that some good big fields not too far from the city could be secured as a place for holding the exercises.

In Self-Defense.

"What did you send that man up for," asked the lawyer, "when he proved his innocence beyond a doubt?"

"Just couldn't help it," replied the rural justice. "First case I've had in six months, an' I 'est nachully had to keep my hand in!"

Something of Interest

Concerning the McKinley Mining & Smelting Company's Stock.

The Company opened negotiations with the "Catholic Union and Times," of Buffalo, to publish its advertisement. This paper has a very careful and conservative management. It insisted upon making a thorough and careful investigation concerning the McKinley Mines, before accepting the advertising.

When this had been done, it decided to accept and publish our advertisement, and very kindly and gratuitously printed concerning us the following, its own matter. READ IT:

"THE McKINLEY MINES"

A Great Name and a Great Property.

"Many mining ventures are being exploited in these days, some of which are good and some not so good, but now and then one is found by those who can discern the good, that looms so far above the average proposition, that it is like Olympus to a molehill. Of this character seems to be the McKinley Mining and Smelting Company's mines, an advertisement of which we publish in this issue, and to which we cheerfully and confidently call the especial attention of our readers.

"Pursuing the unvarying policy of the UNION AND TIMES we have not accepted the advertisement of this company without first making a careful and thorough investigation of its history, management and prospects and becoming satisfied that it is exactly what is claimed for it, an honest, genuine, well-managed, as well as a great property, destined to bring handsome returns to its stockholders.

"It seems to be well understood among the close friends of the late President, that had he lived beyond the term which he was serving, when the assassin's bullet cut short his great career, he intended to devote his remaining years to the development of these rich properties. It is quite natural that Colonel Barber, who married Mrs. McKinley's sister, and is the president of the company, should wish not only to carry out the plans of the lamented McKinley, but to so manage the properties as to bring to his wife and sister-in-law the largest possible returns from their operation. This policy will bring equal proportionate benefit to every stockholder of the company. In this the directors, all of whom were warm friends of the President, are fully in sympathy and are earnestly co-operating to fully realize his expectations and justify his prophecy concerning the mines—for he firmly believed and predicted that they would develop immense wealth for the shareholders.

"The gentlemen connected with the enterprise are men of the highest standing for integrity and business ability, and have amply demonstrated their confidence in it by becoming large investors themselves.

"It is a pleasure to recommend an investment of so high a character."

Dear Sir: Yours of the 12th inst., enclosing subscription to The White Pine Miner, is received, for which please accept thanks.

With regard to the McKinley Mines would say they are looking splendidly, and there can be no question as to their value. I will venture the assertion that before the close of the present year the Company's stock will be worth $15 per share, if not more, and will be paying big dividends on that valuation.

Next week's issue of "The Miner" will contain a full description of the properties, together with cuts of all the Company's buildings at this place, erected and in course of erection ... it will be well to keep it for fu... ference. I will be pleased to give ... confidential information regarding ... look any ... me you may desire ...

THE McKINLEY MINING and SMELTING COMPANY

RESPECTFULLY submits the following facts for your careful consideration and investigation:

THE MINES OF THE UNITED STATES PRODUCE NEARLY ONE-THIRD OF THE ANNUAL WEALTH OF OUR COUNTRY.

THERE ARE GOOD MINING INVESTMENTS AND BAD MINING INVESTMENTS, just as there are good and bad business investments of every kind.

WE ASSERT, without fear of successful contradiction, that THE STOCK OF THE M'KINLEY MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY OFFERS THE BEST MINING INVESTMENT IN THE UNITED STATES TODAY.

DO NOT TAKE OUR WORD FOR THIS, but investigate OUR MINES, OUR BUSINESS METHODS, AND THE STANDING OF OUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS. CALL AT OUR OFFICES and talk with our Secretary, who conducted the negotiations that resulted in OUR PURCHASE OF THESE MINES, and who secured OUR PERFECT TITLE derived from the United States government by patents regularly filed and recorded. Our Secretary will refer you to PEOPLE OF PROMINENCE IN WASHINGTON, D. C., who HAVE INVESTIGATED THESE MINES and know their value, and will prove to you that our statements in regard to values are not exaggerated.

Does It Pay to Own Stock in Good Mines?

THE NEW YORK ENGINEERING AND MINING JOURNAL of February 17, 1901, gives a list of 236 mines, ONE THOUSAND SHARES OF STOCK IN ANY ONE OF WHICH WOULD MAKE A HANDSOME INCOME FOR THE OWNER, and the stock of these mines SOLD AT THE OUTSET AT A LOW FIGURE.

MILLIONS were made in THE GREAT COMSTOCK MINE OF NEVADA, and D. H. Jackson, the old Superintendent of the Comstock, VOUCHES FOR THE M'KINLEY MINES.

An investment in UNITED VERDE stock realized THREE HUNDRED TIMES THE ORIGINAL INVESTMENT, and Prof. George A. Treadwell, the celebrated metallurgist of New York City, who developed that mine, said recently: "THE M'KINLEY COMPANY'S MINES ARE TODAY MORE PROMISING THAN THE UNITED VERDE WAS AT THE SAME STAGE."

THE GREAT HOMESTAKE MINE of South Dakota went begging when its stock was first offered at $1.00 per share, yet this company has paid 288 regular monthly dividends, amounting in all to $11,584,350, approximating $80.00 per share, and a recent sale of a small block of these shares brought $75.00 per share, thus NETTING THE OWNER OVER $150.00 PER SHARE.

You cannot buy stock in the foregoing mines now, the price is too high, but you can buy THE STOCK OF THE M'KINLEY MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY, that promises as well.

"PROVE ALL THINGS—HOLD FAST THAT WHICH IS GOOD."

INVESTIGATE AND BUY THE BEST. WE REPEAT, the stock of THE M'KINLEY MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY offers THE BEST MINING INVESTMENT IN THE UNITED STATES TODAY.

The Mineral Resources of Nevada are best illustrated by the fact that within ten years the DeLamar mines have produced $14,000,000, that the Wedekind is forging to the front as one of the wonders of the West, and that White Pine County shows in OUR PROPERTIES MINES OF WONDERFUL RICHNESS ALREADY PROVED, and of untold possibilities.

The best evidence that NEVADA IS A GREAT MINING STATE is her bullion record of $1,507,441,575.70. CALIFORNIA ALONE as a State EXCEEDS NEVADA'S BULLION RECORD, and yet, so far as her possibilities are concerned, NEVADA IS ALMOST VIRGIN TERRITORY. Few people realize this, but its truth may be easily proved from statistics.

UNDERSTAND WE OFFER MINES for your investigation and for your investment, NOT PROSPECTS. We have large bodies of ore rich in GOLD, SILVER, LEAD AND COPPER, UNCOVERED, SAMPLED, ASSAYED AND BLOCKED OUT, and we invite you to become interested in the full development of these mines.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS ONCE AT EVERY MAN'S DOOR, and fortunate is he who hears and responds to the call. A LARGE OR SMALL INVESTMENT NOW will be returned to you MANY FOLD IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

Why is this stock offered to the public? IF IT IS SO VALUABLE, WHY DO WE NOT TAKE IT ALL OURSELVES?

"Mining stocks are offered to the public because no one man has sufficient capital to successfully operate the properties, however valuable the properties may be. Only a few months ago the British government came to New York City to raise $50,000,000 on a bond issue. These bonds are a good investment, yet the government came here for money. The bonds of a prosperous town or city may be gilt-edged, yet they are placed in outside money markets. THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD IS AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT, yet not one-fifth of its stock is owned in Pennsylvania. THE NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RAILROAD SECURITIES are as stable as government bonds, yet the recent inventory of the estate of CORNELIUS VANDERBILT showed that he OWNED LESS THAN ONE-FIFTH OF ITS STOCK.

"STANDARD OIL CO. STOCK IS SELLING AT NEARLY $800 per share on the curb. It is not even a listed security, yet it paid 28 per cent dividend last year, and JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER OWNS LESS THAN ONE-THIRD OF THE STOCK of the company that he originated.

"SOME ONE MUST HAVE SOLD STOCK IN THE INCEPTION OF THESE COMPANIES, and the thousands and tens of thousands of investors made the greatest share of the profits by becoming purchasers. Nothing of magnitude in local enterprises ever proves a success without the aid of outside capital. It is the history of the greatest and most successful companies, in mining especially, that the combination of the investments of the many has universally created the profits and rendered possible great enterprises. WITHOUT THIS DIVISION OF INTEREST THROUGH THE MEDUIM OF CAPITALIZATION THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN NO GREAT MINING SUCCESSES."

Our STOCK is now offered at $3.00 per share.

Make Your Investment Now and Save Yourself Unavailing Regrets, as the Stock Will Be Advanced Without Notice.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN NEXT HOUSE

Lon Sanders Says Candidates in Most Wards Are of Low Grade.

The motive behind the withdrawal of the name of Lon Sanders as Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates from the Twenty-eighth ward has been made public. He objects to the character of the men nominated for the House of Delegates throughout the city.

In withdrawing his name Mr. Sanders has written a letter in which he says that the few good men who may be elected in some wards will be in a hopeless minority in the House of Delegates, consequently he does not desire to become a member of that body.

"I cannot afford to enter such a body, for the stigma of corruption and all that it stands for will attach necessarily to the whole House, and each individual member, irrespective of his efforts in behalf of honest government, will bear the burden resting upon the whole body," writes Mr. Sanders.

Monday the name of Albert T. Terry was substituted for that of Sanders.

"FORCE" MAKES GOOD LIVING EASY

AMERICANS AMONG KILLED IN HONDURAN BATTLE

Lee Christmas' Rebel Force, Which Included Many of His Countrymen, Almost Wiped Out by Government Troops.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Passengers on the steamer Breakwater bring the first news of a desperate battle fought in Honduras last Wednesday, between the government troops and a band of insurgents under Lee Christmas, an American.

The battle was fought at Mani, two days march from Tegucigalpa.

Out of 200 men under Christmas, sixty were killed and 100 wounded. On the government side one colonel and four officers were killed and many wounded. The remnant of the force escaped to the mountains and are in hiding. An order has gone out to take Christmas, dead or alive.

As he is very nervy, it is believed he will never be captured alive. Christmas, now a man of 40, went to Central America from New Orleans six years ago. He was an associate of Gen. John Drummong of Mobile and William Fitzgerald of Detroit.

He became an intimate friend of President Sierra, who made him chief of police of Tegucigalpa. Then the rupture occurred between Sierra and Bonilla over the presidency. Bonilla induced Christmas to join the revolution. Several Americans were in Christmas' forces.

INSURANCE SWINDLERS BOLD.

They Even Had City's Death Records Changed by Employes.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The records of the bureau of vital statistics in the health department, according to Assistant District Attorney Krotel, have been invaded and changed by the band of $1,000,000 insurance swindlers, through employes in the department, by which the band have been enabled to collect upon bogus insurance policies, which would not otherwise have been paid. "Hundreds of death certificates, I have been told," said Mr. Krotel, "have been altered to show a cause of death which could not be questioned by insurance companies. Commissioner Lederle is making rigid investigation.

Miss Roosevelt to Go North.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, Miss Edith Root, the McIlhenneys, Mrs. Shattuck of New York, Miss Schenck of New York, W. E. Stauffer and the Misses Stauffer of New Orleans have returned from Averys Island. Misses Roosevelt and Root will leave for Washington Thursday morning.

WON'T RESIGN FOR ADDICKS

Gasman's Henchman, Elected to Senate, Says He Will Stick to His Post.

Answering an inquiry as to the truth of reports that he will resign in favor of his leader, J. Frank Allee, the newly elected Addicks senator from Delaware, has sent this program to the Post-Dispatch:

By Telegraph to the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

DOVER, Del., March 3.—Report that I will resign and that my friend, J. Edward Addicks, will be appointed is untrue. He would not go to the Senate by appointment. I will not resign. J. FRANK ALLEE.

Robber Took Her Purse.

Miss Flossie Bates, who has been the guest of her brother, Rev. George E. On her arrival in Detroit a robber snatched her pocketbook and left her stranded. She sent to her brother for funds.

RUDOLPH SAYS GANG WILL TAKE HIM OFF TRAIN

Union Bank Robber Boasts Detectives Cannot Bring Him Back to Missouri to "Do Him Up."

HE AND COLLINS LIKE PUBLICITY'S LIMELIGHT

Lawyer Tells Both Prisoners There Is no Hope for Them as They Will Probably Be Hanged.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 3.—"If they try to take me back to Missouri, my gang'll pinch the train and turn me loose," exclaimed "Bill" Rudolph, alias "The Missouri Kid," who is being held here in connection with the robbery of the bank at Union, Mo., Dec. 27.

"I tell you what, they ain't going to get me back there and do me up. The bunch won't stand for it. We are too well organized."

This is an illustration of the pose of Rudolph and Collins, alias Lewis, have struck before the Hartford public.

They like the experience of being considered desperate men and are playing the game to the limit.

Nevertheless, they cannot conceal by their bravado appearance that they are worried by their predicament and that they fear they will be hanged in Missouri.

Their lawyer, former Judge John W. Coogan, has told them they will probably suffer the death penalty.

Both are very reticent, but Rudolph says more than Collins, probably because he has not had so much experience.

"I was a fool," he said, "to allow myself to be trapped that way. I am usually on the lookout for 'cops,' but I just fell down this time.

"I had guns all right, and I tell you what it is, if Dougherty hadn't had a dead sure drop on me when he stepped in that room, I'd have dropped him dead sure.

"I couldn't get at my guns, or I'd have shown him how to shoot."

Collins is equally as boastful when he talks.

He says he was caught because he didn't have his pistol.

"They knew when to nab me," he said. "They knew I didn't have my pistol and could not do business with them. There would have been a few dead policemen if I had not gone out without it for the first time. There will be one dead one, sure thing, when I get free. That is the one who hit me. I know his number. He's spotted, all right.

Rudolph and Collins deny they are the men wanted at Union. Rudolph says his name is Long and that he is a victim of mistaken identity. Collins admits his identity, but says he knows nothing of the crimes with which he is charged.

Superintendent Dougherty of the New York Pinkerton Agency says there is no question about his having the right men.

He also says Rudolph's threat that his gang will rescue him is without basis.

"If there were any chance of its coming true, he would not say anything about it," says Dougherty.

"He is simply young in the business and, therefore, boastful.

"Collins and Rudolph will be taken back to Missouri and, in my opinion, hanged for poor Schumacher's murder."

Collins has been identified by a former convict as having been sentenced in 1900 at Trenton, N. J., for 15 years for burglary. He escaped after six months' confinement.

SHERIFF GOES TO IDENTIFY ROBBERS

Armed with requisition papers from Gov. Dockery, Sheriff Thomas B. Burch of Franklin County, Mo., departed at noon Tuesday for Hartford, Conn., to bring back William Rudolph and Fred Lewis, who robbed the bank at Union and killed Pinkerton Detective C. J. Schumacher.

Sheriff Bruch was accompanied by three other citizens of Franklin County—Cashier A. W. Hoffman of the bank of Union, W. M. Meyersieck of Union and Joseph Schmuke of Stanton.

They will travel over the Big Four and C. & O. to New York, whence they will start Wednesday night for Connecticut via the New York, New Haven and Hartford, arriving at Hartford Thursday morning.

In New York the Franklin County delegation will be met by C. C. Murphy of the Pinkerton Agency, who was superintendent at St. Louis at the time of the murder of Schumacher. He may accompany them to Hartford.

Mr. Hoffman told the Post-Dispatch Tuesday morning that he anticipated no difficulty in identifying the captives.

"Rudolph's teeth are filled with $77 worth of our gold," said he, "and I can tell him in a minute. Lewis has an American eagle tattooed on his breast and is also tattooed on his left wrist. I think I can identify them both myself."

"But the sheriff is taking along Mr. Schmuke, who keeps a hotel and saloon at Stanton near the Rudolph home. He saw them both two days before the killing of Schumacher. He has known Bill Rudolph since he was a boy.

The Identification Will Be Complete.

"Meyersieck is being taken along for the same reason. He was in the battle with Rudolph and Lewis on horseback the night after they killed Schumacher."

George D. Charlesworth of the Pinkertons' St. Louis office was with the party during their stay in St. Louis. They intended to start for Hartford Monday night, but were forced to wait until Bruch came from Jefferson City with the requisition papers.

Mr. Charlesw[illegible]h says Rudolph can surely be ident[illegible]d by his teeth.

"He had gold [illegible]t into his teeth after he stole enough gold from the Union Bank to do it with," said Mr. Charlesworth.

"The robbery took place on the morning of Dec. 27. On New Year's day Rudolph and Lewis turned up at Hot Springs. Rudolph went at once to a dentist named Smith. He had several gold teeth put in his mouth and had other teeth tipped with gold and bridged with gold. He went to the dentist every day for about two weeks. Then he and Lewis went back to Franklin County. The killing of Schumacher occurred after that, on Jan. 24.

"Lewis was tattoed while he was in the army in the Philippines. That's how he happened to get the American eagle etched on his breast."

Mr. Charlesworth says that Rudolph and Lewis will probably be kept at the Four Courts when brought back.

"There is no safe jail up in Franklin County for those fellows," he remarked. "They will have to be taken there for a preliminary hearing, but for their own safety it will be advisable to bring them back the same day."

CLERGY TO GO TO CAPITAL.

Ministers Will Try to Defeat Nelson Perpetual License Bill.

A committee representing the ministers of the various church denominations in St. Louis will go to Jefferson City in a few days to present their objections to the Nelson perpetual-license bill.

The ministers are acting together and will join with President John F. Shepley of the Law Enforcement League.

The agitation that resulted in the appointment of the committees started in the morning service at the Mount Cabanne Christian church, where Rev. F. G. Tyrrell, pastor of the church, made some strong statements and the congregation appointed a committee consisting of J. Frank Merryman and J. Q. McCanne to act with the pastor in opposing the bill. The Christian Ministers' Association appointed Dr. Tyrrell, Dr. Cree and Rev. J. N. Crutcher to represent that body. The Methodist Ministers appointed Rev. C. R. Carlos and the Presbyterian Ministers Rev. Henry Gardner.

OFFICIAL FEES ATTACKED.

Bar Association Would Change Probate and Excise Offices.

The St. Louis Bar Association has instructed its judiciary committee to draft a bill providing for a change in the law regarding the fees of the probate judge, to be submitted to the state legislature and to provide either for an annual salary for the probate judge or a limited amount of fees.

The association adopted a resolution favoring an amendment admitting of appeal from the decisions of the excise commissioner.

BRYAN READY TO BOLT

New York Tribune Says He Will Lead Independent Movement Should Old Foes Triumph.

NEW YORK, March 3.—William J. Bryan has informed his intimate friends in this city, says the Tribune, that if the gold and "plutocratic" Democrats triumph in the next national Democratic convention he will lead his followers from the hall and nominate an independent Democratic ticket with a platform that will enlist the support of the radicals.

"The friends of Mr. Bryan," said one of the Nebraskan's coadjutors, "are keeping the fires of true Democracy burning on the altar of Democracy. There is something worse than defeat. It is a sacrifice of principles. Now, don't make any mistake. Not all the Democrats who voted the regular ticket in 1896 and again in 1900 were in favor of all the things in the platform, but the platform was nine-tenths right and should have had the support of every Democrat."

PRINCESS QUITS GIRON FOREVER

Sent Touching Adieu Saying Action Was for Her Children.

GENOA, March 3.—The departure of Princess Louise for Landau was so well managed that nothing was known of her voyage until daugther and mother met at Landau.

Before quitting La Metairie the princess presented many souvenirs to her attendants and also gave a handsome present to Dr. Martin. She wrote a touching letter of adies to M. Giron, saying it was better they should part and break off all relations, concluding:

"It is for the sake of my children."

FINE COAT BROUGHT TO HIM.

Real Estate Man Discovers Valuable Garment in Vestibule of Home.

C. G. Nicholls of the Nicholls-Ritter Realty Co., found a handsome $75 overcoat in the vestibule of his home, 4060 Westminster place, that he is very willing to to return to the owner.

Nicholls is quite certain that the coat did not belong to any of his acquaintances, for he would remember having seen it, as it is of a quality seldom seen. The coat was found Monday morning. It is believed some one slept with it over him in the vestibule Sunday night.

ROOSEVELT WILL CLIMB MT. SHASTA

He Plans to Conquer Mountain That Few Have Been Able to Ascend.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Roosevelt has decided to add mountain climbing to the joys of his second western trip. He has given orders that he and his party are to be escorted to the top of Mount Shasta, the giant of the Siskiyous, which towers 14,401 feet above sea level.

Shasta is one of the most difficult mountains to ascend. There are countless deep canyons and cut-offs that are the dread of expert mountain climbers. The mountain is covered with snow almost from its base all the year around, and at the top the snow is hundreds of feet deep. Hundreds have started to climb Mount Shasta, but few have reached the top, and Mr. Roosevelt will find it the most strenuous job he has ever undertaken.

$250,000 FIRE LOSS.

Portland, Oregon, Building Is Burned in the Night.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 3.—Fire broke out at 12:45 this morning in the eighth floor of the Dekum block at the corner of Third and Washington streets and destroyed property valued at close to $250,000.

The building is a brick structure eight stories high, 100 by 100, and is one of the finest structures in the city.

The large department store of Lipman, Wolfe & Co., occupied the first two stories, and their stock of goods valued at $.00,000 is badly damaged by water and smoke. The fire was confined to the three upper stories which were gutted. It started on the top floor in the office of E. W. Moore, photographer, and it is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. It is believed that the occupants of the building were amply insured.

PROPOSES TO PAY FOR A FRANCHISE

Ordinance Introduced in East St. Louis Council Is a Novelty.

AUTO COMPANY OFFERS 2 PER CENT FOR LIGHTING RIGHT

The Company Wants to Furnish Light and Power When It Resumes the Bridge Automobile Service.

An ordinance has been introduced in the East St. Louis City Council which is unique. It acknowledges that the city is entitled to compensation for a valuable franchise and provides for payment on a scale hitherto unheard of.

The ordinance grants to the Interstate Transit Co. the right to erect poles and string wires and supply electric lights and power to East Side consumers.

A clause in the ordinance provides that 2 per cent of the company's gross earnings shall be paid into the city treasury.

The ordinance, supported by the necessary petitions of property owners, was introduced Monday afternoon.

The interstate company, which operated the Eads Bridge autos and is now installing a new automobile servie to be inaugurated some time in April, will become a competitor of the Clark syndicate, which owns the East Side street railways and electric light plant in the lighting field as well as in the bridge passenger business.

Owing to the fact that there has heretofore been no competition in lighting in East St. Louis complaint has been made of high rates.

The interstate company announces that it will be ready upon the passage of the ordinance to begin the construction of its new plant.

POTRENT OF ILL FOR BAUMHOFF

Dismissal of Charges Against McGrew Is Unfavorable to Postmaster.

Politicians see in the dismissal of charges against Andrew G. McGrew, bookkeeper at the United States Subtreasury, indications adverse to Postmaster Baumhoff's case. McGrew has been active in procuring testimony which was filed against Baumhoff, and when charges were filed against McGrew, part of his defense was that the accusations had been preferred because of his activity in the Baumhoff matter.

In Washington Friday it was decided to drop the case against McGrew. Sunday morning Postmaster Baumhoff hastily departed for the national capital. It is believed he was informed of the action favoring McGrew.

The formal notification of the decision in the McGrew case was sent direct to McGrew. The letter follows:

Treasury Department, Washington, Feb. 27, 1903.—Mr. Andrew G. McGrew, bookkeeper, care assistant treasurer United States, St. Louis, Mo.: Sir—Referring to the matter of the charges preferred against you by the assistant treasurer United States at St. Louis, Mo., I have to advise you that after a careful investigation of the charges the department finds they are not sustained, and the recommendation for your removal has, therefore, been disapproved. Respectfully,

O. L. SPAULDING,
Acting Secretary.

LABOR MAN ORDERED AWAY

Secretary of Union Accused of Selling Secrets Has to Quit Colorado City.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., March 3.—A meeting of the members of the Colorado Mill and Smelters' Union, No. 125, at which many business men were present, was held in Colorado City to investigate charges against the recording secretary of the union, A. H. Crane, to the effect that he had divulged the plans of the union to the mill owners. Crane was brought to the meeting under police protection, and at the conclusion of the investigation he was ordered to leave the city, which he is supposed to have done.

Another sensational incident occurred during the night when three wagonloads of men that were being taken to the Portland mill were turned back by the pickets guarding the approaches to the plant. By an unfrequented route, however, later the men were enabled to enter the mill, and are now at work.

OPPONENT FOR STEPHENS.

Judge Cook a Candidate for East Side Mayoralty.

In the municipal election in East St. Louis this spring the Nonpartisan ticket will enter the field, and Judge Silas Cook will probably be that party's candidate for mayor. Mayor M. M. Stephens, who has been mayor for 14 years, will probably head the Citizens' ticket.

The men prominently mentioned for minor places on the Nonpartisan ticket are: City treasurer, Frank J. Kurrus; city attorney, Maurice V. Joyce; assessor, Charles D. Morrison. Aldermen, First ward, Tony Wolfer; Second ward, Henry Brueggan; Third ward, Ben Haumesser; Fourth ward, David Beatty; Fifth ward, James Brown; Sixth ward, John Domhoff; Seventh ward, George Guenther.

A. A. McFarland's Funeral.

The funeral of A. A. McFarland was held Tuesday afternoon from the residence, 2703 Bacon street, and was participated in by a delegation from the Carpenters' District Council of which he was a leading member. Since the death of Mrs. McFarland last September he has been disconsolate, and it is believed his grief hastened his death, which took place Sunday. He was 50 years of age and was business agent for a number of labor unions.

GUTHRIE, March 3.—Maurice A. Hagan a personal friend of W. J. Bryan and a Democratic politician, died suddenly at his home here tonight.

Physicians who attend him said it was heart disease, but Dr. Blesch, his family physician, says he had no disease of the heart. It is rumored that symptoms of morphine poisoning were noticed.

Hagan carried $100,000 in life insurance. His last policy for $20,000 was issued ten days ago. Dr. Barker who examined him then, says he found no evidence of heart trouble.

Home Rule Far Distant.

LONDON, March 3.—The Birmingham papers credit Lord Spencer, the Liberal leader in the House of Lords, with declaring, in the course of a speech that he made in that city last Saturday, that home rule for Ireland "was very distant, and that it would be impolitic to bring it forward." He had always believed it to be more probable that the Unionist party would eventually carry some measure of self-government for Ireland than that the Liberals would do so.

LAME BACK? IT'S KIDNEY TROUBLE!

Vice-Commodore Adam Freudenstein, G. A. R., Custer Post, says he was permanently cured of lame back, kidney and bladder trouble by

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

The following letter from Commodore Fruedenstein is a sample of thousands of unsolicited letters received from grateful men and women who have been permanently cured by Warner's Safe Cure.

TACOMA, WASH.

GENTLEMEN:

I am pleased to say that I have the greatest confidence in Warner's Safe Cure, as I suffered for years with lame back, kidney and bladder troubles contracted in the army, which nothing seemed to help until I tried Safe Cure. A few bottles did more for me than all the doctors and medicines previously tried; it has permanently cured me. I now feel strong and well, and though at an advanced age can enjoy life, thanks to this medicine.

ADAM FREUDENSTEIN,
Senior Vice Com., G. A. R., Custer Post.

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Disease and Do Not Knot It Until It Has Developed Into Bladder Trouble, Rheumatism, Diabetes or Bright's Disease.

Bright's disease, diabetes, rheumatism, rheumatic gout, uric acid, uremic poison, jaundice, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, painful passage of the urine, a frequent desire to urinate, especially in the night, a dull, drubbing ache in the small of your back, pains in your groins and the lower bowels, sore joints and muscles, dizziness, pains in the back of your neck, torpid liver, eczema and scrofula, yellow, sallow complexion, coated tongue, tired, worn-out, nervous feeling, lack of energy and ambition, swellings and bloating in different parts of the body, are all caused by weak, unhealthy kidneys, neglected, and they indicate the disease has been of long standing, as these outward symptoms seldom make themselves known for many months.

THIS SIMPLE HOME TEST WILL TELL.

Let some urine stand for twenty-four hours in a glass or bottle. If there is a reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy, or if you see particles or germs floating about in it, your kidneys are unhealthy. You should take "Safe Cure" to arrest all these unnatural conditions and prevent serious complications.

ANALYSIS FREE.

If, after you have made this test, you have any doubt in your mind as to the development of the disease in your system, send a sample of your urine to the Medical Department, Warner's Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., or 44 Lombard St., Toronto, Can., and our doctors will analyze it and send you a report with advice, free of charge, together with a valuable medical book describing all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, and treatment for each disease.

All letters from women read and answered by a woman doctor. All correspondence in strictest confidence.

Cures All Kidney Diseases.

Safe Cure purifies and strengthens the kidneys and enables them to do their work; it will cure rheumatism, rheumatic gout, diabetes Bright's disease, uric acid poison, gall stones, inflammation of the bladder and urinary organs and female weakness, and restore the patient's health and vigor.

Safe Cure is purely vegetable and contains no narcotic or harmful drugs; it is free from sediment and is pleasant to take; it does not contain alcohol; it is a most valuable and effective tonic; it kills the disease germs.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure.

You can buy Safe Cure at any drug store. Price $1.00 a bottle. REFUSE SUBSTITUTES. There is none "just as good" as Warner's Safe Cure. It is prescribed and used by doctors and in the leading hospitals as the only absolute cure for all forms of diseases of the kidney, liver, bladder and blood.

Beware of so-called kidney cures full of sediment and of bad odor—they not only do not cure, but are positively harmful.

ERIN'S LEADERS ON LAND PROBLEM

Joseph Devlin and John Purroy Mitchel to Speak at the Odeon.

ONE SITS IN PARLIAMENT, OTHER HAS HISTORIC NAME

During Their Tour of America They Are Organizing Leagues to Aid Tenants in Struggle Against Landlords.

Joseph Devlin, representative in the British Parliament of North Kilkenny, Ireland, has arrived in the city, and is a guest at the Southern Hotel. He is accompanied by John Purroy Mitchel of New York.

Considerable interest will attach to the presence in the city of Mr. Mitchel, who is a grandson of the celebrated John Mitchel, the ablest and most determined opponent of English rule in Ireland during the last 100 years.

Mitchel, the elder, had an extraordinary career. He was convicted of treason in 1848, and was transported to Van Dieman's Land, then an English penal colony. With the aid of a friend, P. J. Smyth, who afterwards represented Westmeath in the House of Commons, Mitchel escaped.

He immediately made his way to the United States and started a newspaper in Richmond, Va. He was an ardent sympathizer with the South during the civil war, and his son, James Mitchel, was a staff officer under Gen. John B. Gordon.

When the war was over John Mitchel returned to Ireland and was elected M. P. for Tipperary, but his election was declared invalid on the ground that he was a convict. Mitchel wrote a "History of Ireland," a "Life of Hugh O'Neill," "The Last Conquest of Ireland, Perhaps," and the "Jail Journal."

The "Jail Journal" was considered a masterpiece of English, and the London Times pronounced Mitchel the best English writer of his generation.

Both Will Speak on Land Situation.

Mr. Devlin will address a meeting at the Odeon Tuesday evening, and his remarks will relate chiefly to the general situation in Ireland as well as the progress that has been made by the United Irish Lague in the United States. Mr. Mitchel will also make a brief address.

When asked what he thought of the recent land conference, Mr. Devlin said it was highly satisfactory, and that the statements made by some Irish-American speakers that it was in favor of the landlords was erroneous.

The conference was merely a sort of advisory body, and unless its suggestions were incorporated into an act of Parliament its labors, he said, would have no effect. Mr. Devlin said that little could be said on the subject until the promised land bill of the government was introduced in Parliament. When the land question is finally settled, as he expects it will be, Mr. Devlin said that a vigorous agitation for legislative independence would follow. The Irish landlords have been the strongest opponents of home rule, and when they are shorn of power and authority the greatest obstacle to a national parliament will be removed.

Has Organized Many Branches.

Mr. Devlin has been eight months in this country, and during that time has organized 230 branches of the United Irish League. Since the league was started $70,000 has been subscribed and the amount forwarded to Ireland, where it has been used in perfecting the home organization, and assisting the Irish tenantry in their struggle against landlord oppression. Mr. Devlin told a good story apropos of the ignorance of English officials on Irish affairs. Mr. Wyndham was introducing a bill in the House of Commons to improve the condition of harbors, and when he had finished his speech Mr. John Roche, M. P. for Galway, made a plea in favor of the port of Wexford in his constituency. The chief secretary, replying, said that in consideration of the singular moderation of the gentleman's demands as well as his powerful arguments he would give the matter his closest attention and would promise that something would be done for the port of Woodford.

The joke lay in the fact that Woodford is an inland town—40 miles from the sea—and that consequently there was no port to be assisted.

Mr. Devlin is the youngest member of the House of Commons, being yet under 30 years of age.

During his absence in the United States he was returned for Kilkenny, although he had never visited the constituency in his life. He is a native of Belfast, which has given to Ireland such sterling patriots as Henry Joy McCracken and William Orr.

The meeting at the Odeon this evening is intended to commemorate the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmett.

Mr. Devlin laid particular stress on the fact that the best assistance he has had since he arrived in America has been from the descendants of Irish revolutionary patriots, the Emmetts, the Mitchels and others.

One of the men who congratulated him on his election from Kilkenny was Henry Maxwell, a grandnephew of the celebrated Theodore Wolfe Tone. He received valuable assistance in Philadelphia from O'Meagher Condon, who was sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered in 1867.

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

SPARK FROM PARLOR MATCH HEAD CAUSED GIRL WIFE FATAL BURNS

Mrs. Georgia Burton Stepped on Bit of Brimstone Which Ignited Skirt, Her Run Downstairs Fanning Flame Till It Enveloped Her.

MRS. GEORGIA BURTON.

A spark from a parlor match caused the death of Mrs. Georgia Burton. She stepped on the match, which was lying on the floor. The spark which flew from it lodged in a ruffle at the hem of her dress. A flame leaped up. She was fatally burned and died at the City Hospital.

Mrs. Burton was only 15 years old, but she was married a year ago at Poplar Bluffs, Mo. After four months there was a separation and she came to St. Louis with her mother. They lived at 1429 Choutesu avenue.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Burton was curling her hair in her room. She was heating the curling irons at a smoldering fire in the stove, with which her dress could not come in contact.

A match was lying on the floor. Her heel struck it and cracked and flared. A tiny spark lodged in the ruffle and smoldered there for a moment. As she crossed the floor the spark was fanned into flame. Before she noticed it, the bottom of her dress was afire.

She ran screaming down the stairs. Carl Wissman, who lives on the first floor, tore her burning clothing from her and wrapped about her quilts which were brought by members of the family.

She had been so severely burned from head to foot that she died at the City Hospital at 9 o'clock Monday night.

From the fact that a match with a charred head was found where she had stood, that she had no occasion to strike a match and that her dress caught fire at the bottom and that it could not have come in contact with the stove, the conclusion is reached that the flame could not have been started except by the spark of the match.

A brother of Mrs. Burton, to whom a telegram was sent after the accident, arrived at the City Hospital Monday night a short time before his sister died, but was told that her condition was such that she could not be seen, and was not admitted to the ward in which she lay dying. He did not know until Tuesday morning that she was dead.

"CAPTAIN" BRADLEY IN JAIL

Well-Known Coal Miner Flourished a Revolver at New Athens and Was Fined Twenty-Five Dollars.

"Capt." Bradley, a Mount Olive, Ill., coal miner, well known throughout the mining districts, was lodged in the Belleville jail Tuesday morning.

"Capt." Bradley, who was formerly a "general," but lowered his title because of the numerous persons claiming to be "generals," came to grief at New Athens Monday night. He had a revolver and was presenting living pictures of "border life in the early days" and was arrested.

Justice Bullmer failed to recognize the right of the redoubtable Bradley to do as he pleased in his jurisdiction and made the fine $25 and costs. Bradley said he had money, but such laws were wrong and he was a "captain" and he would not pay and he did not, hence the journey to Belleville.

Bradley got his title of "general" by leading an army of miners across country from Mount Olive and Hamilton during the coal miners' strike, several years ago.

An Explanation Offered to Account for Dr. Morrell's Large Fee.

In reports of the suit of Dr. M. Pinckney Morrell against Joseph Lawrence for $15,000 for professional services, the statement that this sum is asked for 40 days' services, while technically correct, does not express the facts completely. The position of the plaintiff is that he went to New York for an indefinite time, that fact having an effect on his practice in St. Louis; also that other points to be brought out in the evidence will give an adequate explanation of the seemingly large [illegible] demanded.

BOXING, WRESTLING, MUSIC AND CAKES

Post-Dispatch Hustlers Have a Merry Time at Weekly Entertainment.

The weekly entertainment provided by the Post-Dispatch for its hundreds of hustling newsboys again proved a grand success. Monday night the Post-Dispatch "hustlers" room was packed, 700 merchants being on hand to take part and enjoy the show.

Singing, boxing, wrestling and string music were in order last night and all met with yells of approval.

Jack Keefe, who is to box at the West End Club on Thursday evening, and Jimmy Dunn, the promising lightweight, went four rounds, with Tommy Bramble, Terry McGovern's former sparring partner, holding the watch and Chris Ward as referee.

The men were at it on the call of time and boxed in a slow and clever manner, giving the boys a chance to follow up the swings, ducks and blocking necessary for protection in fighting.

The boys went wild over the exhibition and gave three rousing cheers for Ward, Keefe and Dunn, which shows the way newsboys appreciate anything athletic.

The next event on the bill was a wrestling bout, consisting of two falls, between James Wolfer and Jack O'Neil.

The men entered the roped arena and were hard at it on the call of time from Chris Ward.

First trying to get hold, then throwing each other in the air, only to light on the mat in a safe position, rolling and tossing about sometimes, standing each other on his head. This hard work continued for 20 minutes, when Wolfer managed to put his opponent to the mat. The next fall was won by O'Neil in 11 minutes, and the "Hustlers" were greatly excited over the good work they had witnessed.

At least 100 boys caught a game lad and tried to imitate the Wolfer and O'Neil holds and twists.

Musical numbers were then rendered by Arthur Dautt and Fred Nochele. Rag-time and classical music met with the same movements of feet and hands, all trying to do a step.

The event that filled the downtown "Hustlers" with enthusiasm was a boxing bout between Oscar Black, a downtown boy, and Harry Ford, a South Side branch boy.

Black forced the branch boy to quit in short order and he at once became the hero of the evening.

Cakes in plenty were given to the boys and they left for their homes, talking over the grand show they had seen.

WORTH A THOUGHT.

This Statement Will Interest Scores of St. Louis Readers.

The facts given below are worth a perusal by all who are anxious about their physical condition or are similarly situated to this resident of St. Louis. It is a local occurrence and can be thoroughly investigated.

William Tracy, teamster, 5741 Cote Brilliante avenue, says: "As a rule, for two years I had pain in the back, but if I performed an extra hard day's work or was engaged in my calling during wet and stormy weather the aching was greatly aggravated. On such occasions trouble with the kidney secretions was sure to ensue. Looking over my paper one night I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills recommended by several prominent people in St. Louis. Some of the cases were similar to mine and they had been cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. This induced me to go to the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. for a box. A dose helped, a continuation of the treatment brought greater results, and when I had finished it not only had the pain disappeared, but the too frequent action of the kidney secretions ceased."

75,000 PERSONS CHEERED LEO XIII

"What Touching Loyalty," Exclaimed Pontiff at Twenty-Fifth Coronation Jubilee.

500 CHURCH BELLS PEAL GREETINGS

Seemed More Like a Spirit Than a Man as He Was Borne Through the Throng in the Great Cathedral.

Rome, March 3.—All Rome was early on the alert and showing most unusual animation and interest in the celebration of Pope Leo's twenty-fifth anniversay coronation.

This movement was especially noticeable at the large hotels which were illuminated as though for a ball. An idea of the number of people congregating at the Vatican could be formed by the fact that it was utterly impossible to get a carriage if the vehicle had not been ordered yesterday, especially as it was raining and by the prices charged for those secured in advance. The scene on the piazza of St. Peter's was magnificent.

There were assembled many hundreds of Italian troops in various modern uniforms, making a striking contrast with the medieval costumes of the Swiss Papal Guard on duty at the bronze doors of the cathedral.

The crowds which gathered before the first cordon of troops were impatient as they stood dripping under the persistent rain.

There was a great clashing of umbrellas and a general feeling of discomfort among the awaiting sightseers, who included very many women in most varied attire, comprising foreigners of all nationalities and Italians from all parts of the country, the uniformity of the crowd being pleasantly broken by groups of sisters in the different gowns of their orders, Catholic students and picturesquely attired friars.

When finally the doors of St. Peter's were opened an almost indescribable struggle occurred. In which all present forgot the rules of holiness and strove hard with push of elbows and feet to reach the interior of the sacred edifice, while on all sides these heard cries of fear and imprecations not very well suited to the spot where a notable religious ceremony was about to begin.

Women Fainted in Cathedral.

Once inside the cathedral, the women who wore lace gowns found them to be in a much mutilated condition and some of the women were carried away in a fainting condition.

The tribunes were soon crowded to overflowing and all the best standing places were taken.

A period of comparative calm succeeded this great rush, and the attention of the people was attracted to the gilded throne near the high altar and to the immense pillars of the Basilica, hung with red silken draperies.

Some of the tribunes on each side of the altar were filled with men and women blazing with decorations.

In a group of royal personages were the Crown Princess Victoria of Sweden and Norway, the Countess Mathilda of Trani of the Bourbon-Naples family; the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar, Duke Robert of Parma, the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg, the Prince of Liechtenstein and Prince Maximilian of Saxony.

In a special tribune was the Pope's family, the diplomatic corps and the members of the Order of Malta, all in full uniform.

Papal Guards in New Uniforms.

Special interest was shown in the innovation introduced by the uniforms of the different detachments of the papal guards.

The Swiss Guard wore red velvet knee breeches, red silk stockings, black shoes with red rosettes, burnished steel cuirasses inlaid with gold, and steel collars in addition to huge white linen collars, starched stiff, falling over their shoulders.

The silver-mounted arms of the Swiss Guard were also inlaid with gold and they wore steel helmets with red ostrich plumes.

Bells of 500 Churches Peal Greeting.

The Noble Guard wore their new uniforms of bright red.

After an hour of very fatiguing waiting, a majestic procession began to appear. It was composed of the great dignitaries of the church, the 45 cardinals present, gorgeous in their red robes, alone making a most imposing, characteristic, picturesque group.

At 11 o'clock precisely, the great bell of St. Peter's rang out a signal which was followed by the clanging of the bells of about 500 churches in Rome as they sounded the announcement that the pontiff was on his way to the Basilica.

The life of the ancient city seemed to pause for a moment; hats were raised and the sign of the cross was made.

Shortly afterwards, inside St. Peter's silver trumpets blared out their message and the pontiff appeared.

The people held their breath for a moment and then all of the pent-up enthusiasm burst forth in a tremendous roar of welcome.

Seemed a Spirit in White Robes.

From the elevation on the new sedia gestatoria, carried by 12 men in costumes of red brocade, flanked by the famous nabelli bearing feather fans and surmounted by a white and gold canopy, the Pope appeared to be more than a human being.

He seemed to be a white spirit, this impression being added to by the pontiff's white robes and white mitre, delicate features, face white as alabaster and his thin hand moving slowly in benediction.

As the sweet-toned, well-trained voices of the Sistine choir sang, "Tu Es Petrus," thousands of voices shouted "Long live Pope Leo," handkerchiefs fluttered in the air, the banners of the various societies represented were waved and many of those present, overcome with emotion, sobbed loudly while others fainted from excess of feeling and fatigue.

Meanwhile the Pope proceeded slowly on what seemed a carpet of heads, absorbing the entire attention of the vast throng.

When the Pope arrived at the throne the ceremony proceeded rapidly. Leaving the sedia gestatoria, the pontiff knelt and prayed and then rose without assistance, donned the falda and the new triple crown and the celebration of the mass began.

At the moment of the elevation of the host a profound silence fell on the assemblage, the guards presented arms, the audience knelt where it was possible for them to do so and from the cupola came the clear, thin sounds of silver trumpets giving the idea of heavenly music.

"Ceremonies Did Me Good, You See."

The Pope then administered the papal benediction and retired to a room for restoratives, prepared on purpose every time he goes to St. Peter's.

There, addressing Dr. Lapponi, his private physician, then the pontiff said:

"You see that, after all your warnings, the ceremonies did me good. What touching loyalty."

It was calculated that there were about 75,000 persons present.

There were about 1000 Americans in the tribunes and the body of the church.

The transatlantic visitors present included Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American College at Rome, with 85 American students; Mgr. Seton of St. Joseph's Church, Jersey City; Mgr. O'Connell, the new rector of the Catholic University at Washington; Mgr. Farrelly of Nashville, Tenn., the Very Rev. John A. Zahn, provincial of the congregation of the Holy Cross of Fort Wayne, Ind.; the Very Rev. Rudolph Mayer, general of the Carmelite Order; the Rev. Wm. Kieran, rector of St. Patrick's Church of Philadelphia; Mr. McLaut and family of Lancaster, Pa.; Miss Troth, Mrs. McLaughlin and Miss Holmes of Philadelphia; Gen. and Mrs. Cloup, Col. and Mrs. Tillman of West Point; Charles Bristed Astor of New York and Prof. Toy of Harvard.

VIOLIN'S PATHETIC HISTORY

Left by Dying Arctic Explorer to Next Who Should Reach Spot—It Will Be Sold.

NEW YORK, March 3.—To help pay the debts of the Peary Arctic Club, an old violin, relic of the ill-fated Greely relief expedition, bequeathed by Roderick R. Schneider, its former owner, as he lay in the snow to die, in 1884, to the next explorer who should come so far north, is now for sale in Brooklyn. Mr. Peary found the violin and turned it over to the Peary Club.

RICH, LET FAMILY STARVE

Connecticut Man With Farm and $5000 Went Away to Fiddle for Burial Money.

DERBY, Conn., March 3.—Although he had a valuable unmortgaged farm and $5000 in two banks, Sherman Dudley, 81 years old, of North Madison, left his wife and daughter at home with no means of subsistence and went to nearby towns to fiddle at cheap dances to get money enough as he expressed it to have a proper burial.

Officials of the Connecticut Humane Society found Mrs. Dudley and her daughter ill and without fuel and food. They found Dudley and compelled him to go home, exacting a promise under threats of prosecution to provide for his family. Dudley was once a violinist of some repute, even going abroad to play.

PRESIDENT SCORES CARMACK

Says He Would See Tennessee Senator in Hades Before He Would Do Anything for Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Roosevelt had a chance to express his opinion of Senator Carmack of Tennessee and did it forcibly.

Senator W. H. Morgan, ex-secretary of state for Tennessee, wants to be appointed a member of the isthmian canal commission and the Tennessee delegation in Congress is favorable to the appointment. The delegation, nearly all of whom are Democrats, went to the White House today in a body and laid before the President the claims of their candidate. Senator Carmack did not go.

The President listened to the Tennesseans and said he would take their nomination under consideration.

"I am always good," he said, "to do anything for you. Any recommendations I shall always be glad to receive and carefully [illegible] after a bit of pause, [illegible] of your delegation [illegible] before I would [illegible] the Sena-

BODY OF KNAPP'S VICTIM FOUND?

New Albany Believes It Has Third Mrs. Knapp's Remains.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., March 3.—The body of a woman found floating in the Ohio river here today answers the description of Hanna Goddard Knapp, including the gold band ring on the left hand and the gold earrings that Knapp said would be found on her body. The hosiery also answers the description that Knapp has given. The body has been in the water several weeks.

E. T. King, whose wife was a sister of Hannah Goddard Knapp's reached here this morning. After some hesitation, because of the decomposed condition of the body, he identified it as that of the murdered third wife of Knapp. His identification was based on a gold ring, engraved with owls, a gold-filled tooth and a scarred middle finger.

Chief of Police Kuemmerling of Hamilton arrived at 8:30 and gave Chief Adams a positive statement that from the description by Knapp he identfied the body as that of Hannah Goddard Knapp. Kuemmerling says that King cannot have the body, and that it will be used as evidence at Hamilton.

King protested to Kuemmerling, but the latter is firm. The local authorities say that Kuemmerling will get the body.

Knapp Reiterates His Story.

HAMILTON, O., March 3.—When shown the dispatch from New Albany, Knapp made the following statement:

"I have said all along that I threw my wife into the river and I say so now. When I threw her in she had earrings in her ears. I can't describe them and don't know whether they were in the dropset or otherwise. She wore a gold band embossed ring on the third finger of her left hand, black stockings, with white feet and a red and white striped flannel nightgown when I put her in the box and threw her in the river and that's all I know about it."

Hannah Goddard Knapp was 5 feet 1 inch, and did not weigh over 105 pounds. She had light hair.

Every detail of the description of the body found at New Albany, Ind., answers that of the missing woman," said Sheriff Bigdon. "The ring found on her body is just as Knapp described it, also the earrings. I have no doubt but they have at New Albany the body of the murdered woman."

Charles Goddard, the uncle of the ill-fated girl, is on his way to Albany to view the remains. Goddard says he can identify the body by the ring found on her finger.

On the anniversary of her 28th birthday Charles Goddard gave her a gold ring, about half an inch wide, embossed with three small birds and an owl. This ring should lead to her identification.

In those days nobody read American books for the good and sufficient reason that there weren't any. But in this year of grace it is not a truculent boast to say that American literature is as virile, original and true as any that will be found in France and equal in many examples to that of Germany and Russia. As to England—well, English novelists are studying American fiction and a distinct improvement is visible these past few years.

The President again distinctly says that mere color is not to be regarded in his appointments to office. This seems to insure the appointment of Afro-American postmasters in all those northern states having a heavy negro vote.

THE REAL QUESTION.

The accusations heard all over the country against St. Louis cannot be refuted by denial or mass meeting resolution.

That the sentiment of the city is sound and healthy does not need proof. The only question is whether it has been actively enlisted in the cause of public morality and has been effective to the full extent of its possible energy.

The prosecutions in the boodle cases have been energetic and successful, but what evidence have we that the source of corruption has been tapped?

It takes two to make a bargain. The bribe-taker has been convicted and the penitentiary awaits him. Has the rich bribe-giver felt the lash of the law?

The taunt so often heard that the little fish are caught in the net and the big ones slip through and escape? Is it altogether groundless?

Is there one law for the rich and another for the poor?

The trail leads to the bribe-taker's door. The law enters and takes him.

The same trail leads to the bribe-giver's door, but has the law entered?

There should be a great searching of hearts in St. Louis. The vast majority hate iniquity and would see it extinguished. But what of the influential minority, iniquitous, insolent and secure?

Mere opinion is nothing, however healthy. Not until sentiment ripens into action is it an effective force against the lawless elements of all sorts and conditions.

It is time for the people of St. Louis to think soberly of this. When a whole city full of honest people look helplessly on while the chief malefactors go unwhipt of justice it is not strange that there is talk of shamelessness.

Let us be no respecter of persons. Let no guilty man escape, high or low, rich or poor. When the world sees that that is the rule enforced in St. Louis we shall be able to claim municipal virtue with confidence that the claim be allowed.

It is the duty of every occupant of a house to keep the street gutter clean. It is, however, the duty of the city to see that gutters are not defective. It is almost impossible to keep some gutters clean.

ROOM FOR A BOOM.

In the Magazine section of the Sunday Post-Dispatch it was shown that more than 1600 new residences and flats have been built to accommodate World's Fair visitors and the added population due to the Fair, much of which will be permanent.

While this building boom is transforming a large part of the district in the immediate vicinity of Forest Park, it would seem that real estate dealers and property owners in the more settled parts of the city, within reasonable distance from the World's Fair, are not as alert as they might be to the opportunities and needs of the situation. In all the large district of the city tapped by the Missouri Pacific and Frisco railways, little or no effect is to be seen from the nearness of the World's Fair. Clifton Heights, Arlee, Gratiot, Benton, Maplewood and all the district lying between King's highway and the city limits on Manchester avenue are within a few minutes' ride of the Fair. Yet nothing is being done to prepare for an increase of population, in the way of visitors or residents. Roads are unmade or neglected, sidewalks dilapidated, and a general state of apathy prevails.

It was expected that the Louisiana Purchase Exposition would benefit the whole city. But the people themselves must wake up if this expectation is to be realized. There is room for some of the boom in the older residence districts. If it misses them, the residents and property owners in these districts will be to blame.

The general manager of the municipally owned street railways of Liverpool testifies as follows: "We had inadequate service, high fares, horse traction, and unsanitary cars. We purchased 68 miles of tramways, made a scrap of the entire equipment and installed electricity and all modern improvements. We reduced fares and gave employes shorter hours, free uniforms and more pay. We increased the number of passengers from 38,000,000 in 1897 to 109,000,000 last year, and the receipts from $1,395,000 to $11,000,000. We paid all charges and had a reserve of $2,431,000 left." Are the English more capable of municipal ownership than American communities?

A Massachusetts state senator says he fears the abolition of capital punishment because in those states and countries where that punishment has been abolished the murder convictions have been 60 per cent as against 20 per cent where the death penalty is maintained. There are jurors who would rather let a man go than hang him, or perhaps greater efforts are made for the defense when the gallows is in sight.

A French critic who has heard Mr. Roosevelt speak says the President gets too gay. But Mr. Roosevelt has had extraordinary luck and he is extremely healthy. We must look at all conditions when we are criticising great men.

St. Louis is not blameless, but she is not shameless.

JUST A MINUTE
WITH THE POST-DISPATCH POET AND PHILOSOPHER

BARNEY'S JACKET.

If you're up at Union Station,
Round the Information Bureau,
Take a peep, for goodness gracious'
Sake, into the hole where Barney
Frauenthal, the wise, is sitting—
Barney with the bulging forehead,
Barney, quick of apprehension,
Quick to hear and quick to answer.
(To the lightning some compare him,
He is such a verbal wonder,
Such a prestidigitator
In the line of information.)
Take a peep, I say, at Barney,
In his blinding crimson jacket
For his use at work adopted.
All the boys in his enclosure
Wear one, too, rejoicing in it,
But the chiefest there of any
Is the jacket worn by Barney.
Holy smoke and blood and blazes!
It is like a conflagration
At the blackest midnight raging!
Any bull, that red beholding,
Would go stark and raving crazy.
It is like a glorious autumn
Sunset on a western prairie,
Filled with golden clouds and stretches
Of red sky with gold illumined.
It is redder than the jacket
Of the red bird in the forest,
And more gaudy than the scarlet
Of that gaudy freak, the bird of Paradise—the gay Beau Brummel
Of all feather-robed creation.
It is redder than the wagon
Christmas brought for Little Willie—
Red enough to start a riot
In a ladies' sewing circle—
Redder than a flag of auction,
Than an emblem anarchistic,
Redder than the chip you ante
When the limit is a dollar—
Redder—yea, this scarlet jacket
Worn by Barney Frauenthal is
Redder than all these together!
Fact about it, there is only
One word to describe it: "Awful!"

What About Kentucky?

A recent disheartening event in Kentucky recalls Bret Harte's celebrated query:

Is civilization a failure,
And is the Caucasian played out?

Two Kentucky gentlemen associated with a racetrack at Newport disagreed, and at once stepped back a few paces and commenced to shoot at each other. They emptied their revolvers—for what Kentucky gentleman does not carry a revolver for exactly such occasions as this?—and when they stopped, perforce, and took an inventory of the destruction they supposed they had wrought, it was found that one gentleman had grazed the nap of the other gentleman's trousers, while the other gentleman's deadly discharges of lead had torn away a piece of cornice from a racing stable some distance away.

Is this the kind of civilization they have in Kentucky? Are these samples of marksmanship a token of degeneracy on the part of Kentucky, the home of shooting irons and hair triggers? Is this the best that Kentucky can do in the third year of the twentieth century?

At this rate hoss racing, poker playing and the drinking of red liquor will cease to be the popular pastimes, and a worn-out and degenerate people will take to croquet, ping-pong and sweet cider.

Senator Walker says, speaking of his work this session: "I have rarely retired before midnight; I have not attended a single social gathering this season." Can it be possible that they have cut out those little friendly games at Jeff. City?

Circuit Judge N. M. Sheldon of Macon, Mo., does not ask the bride to obey in performing the marriage ceremony. Let's see—how far is Macon from St. Louis? It may yet become our favorite Gretna Green.

Some benighted morning papers still continue to say "at midnight th's morning," which is about the equivalent of saying "between Thursday."

Jeffries has promised not to kill Corbett when he gets him in the ring. The world is growing better every day.

Where is all our boasted prosperity? More than a week has passed without a bank robbery.

THE ROAD TO DELHI.

John Oliver Hobbes in Collier's for March.

Our party had brought between us forty-seven tons of dresses and uniforms for the Durbar festivities; there was no time to look at Bombay while the boxes so valuable had to be collected, sorted and stacked in the special train bound for Delhi. As it was, we left the station nearly two hours late. For two days and a night we rushed in the heat and dust and cold past cities with curious names, and scenes from old picture books, and groups of lean Hindoos, decently naked. We saw vultures waiting for the dead, and pelicans, wild green parrots and monkeys; starving sore dogs, thin lean, weak goats, sweetmeat, flower and fruit sellers, coolies, lascars, sweepers, tillers and cultivators of the soil, sturdy native infantry, English soldiers, poor Brahmins superb with caste marks, pilgrims bound for the tomb of Salim Christi, every kind and description of small boy, vagabond and adventurer waiting at the various stations to see the trains, to do a little bargaining, stealing or conjuring, to get carried on possibly, by good luck to the camp at Delhi. The tracts of country between the halting places suggested only the desert and despair; sandy roads and flat intermediate plains which, in spite of their desolation, seemed invisibly inhabited, perhaps by unhappy ghosts, perhaps by some of the despised baser sort of native with meek famishing eyes, and brittle limbs. There is a force in these plains as cruel and as forbidding, as deep and as hungry, as the sea; there is, one feels, a world of worlds engulfed in the barren soil; it has a fearful vitality—the ruined city of Futehpur—Sikri is dead, imperial ancient Rome is dead, Versailles is dead, but the plains breathe as the ocean breathes; they hold a terror which strikes, appals the imagination

HOW TO MAKE THE BUSINESS GIRL GRACEFUL

By Harriet Hubbard Ayer.

Worry is woman's deadliest enemy. Hurry is worry's first lieutenant, who helps to plan the big campaigns against woman's health and beauty. If we women are not very careful we get into hurrying, worrying habits which rob both our faces and lives of all the loveliness.

Quick and alert, the wage-earner has need to be, else we will never succeed in business. But a frantic hurry that tears everything to pieces is the very opposite of the orderly rapidity that really accomplishes something.

One of the most important lessons is to learn not to bustle about aimlessly, not to scramble around wildly; to be quick to think and rapid to execute and to show method in both processes.

Unless you learn to govern your thoughts you will find them ungovernable at the very time you most want them to be obedient to your will. Unless you learn to order your actions they will certainly order you around and leave you always behind.

In your own little round of duty you will need calmness and freedom from fret. Good work is not possible while you fret and fume over it. And the beauty and health you are longing for will never be yours if you begin your day each morning with hurry, worry and an improvident waste of nerve-strength upon which you so much depend for your good looks.

The greatest working-wonder cosmetic I know of is made out of a brisk daily walk, soap and water excepted. There really is nothing so good for the complexion as the exercise we get in outdoor walking. I pity the girls with all my heart who instead of taking a brisk walk through the fresh morning air prefer to cling desperately to a strap in a crowded car and breathe in its vitiated atmosphere.

Walk wherever you can. Walk as though you enjoyed it. Walk with head erect, chest out and shoulders back. Breathe through the nostrils, mouth closed. Let your weight while walking rest on the ball of the foot. Then you will neither "teeter on tiptoe" nor "heel over."

When you arrive at your place of business, settle down to work methodically. Do not "fly all to pieces" with nervousness and restless, bustling hurry.

You should know what you have to do. You should resolve to do it as faithfully and as intelligently as is possible. After that, whatever interruptions or annoying hindrances confront you, you should remember your quiet five minutes in the morning and simply do the best you can.

You cannot have pretty figures if you twist and distort your bodies nine or ten hours each day.

Each girl seems capable of inventing a new and figure-destroying posture. There is no limit to the ingenuity of the girl in devising extraordinary sitting and standing habits.

Watch a pretty little milliner, for instance, at her dainty work. She doubles up and crosses her legs till she resembles more a gnarled and twisted tree trunk than the sweetest and best of God's gifts to man—a fresh, joyous, healthy, happy young girl.

Don't double yourselves up at your work. Don't stoop.

The telephone's girl's work is arduous, requiring great concentration and close confinement. It is of the utmost importance that she should not make her struggle for health and good looks impossible of success by habits of sitting that almost shut off the access of such air as she can get to her lungs. The telephone girl too often curves her spine, instead of sitting correctly; and then we have the girl with an old woman's back, bent over, and she is the girl it is impossible to make look like anything. The way you sit and stand at your work is the way your bodies will certainly grow.

Try to break yourselves of the awkward habits you are conscious of. Think of the ugliness and awkwardness, the beauty of gracefulness. Then straighten up from all the lazy, harmful poses you take while at your work. Beauty of figure cannot be bought in a bottle. It is not to be had through a pair of corsets. It is the reward of healthful habits of mind and body.

COLLINS RETURNS PASS TO PHELPS

St. Louis Representative Takes Exceptions to Limitation to March 31.

REMINDS HIM THAT TERM CONTINUES TO DEC. 31, 1904

Free Transportation Is Denounced by Legislator, Who Quotes Law That Provides for Receiver's Forfeiture of Office.

By a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3.—Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, one of the most popular men in Jefferson City at the present time is Col. William H. Phelps.

The moment the colonel appears in Jefferson City, a hundred requests are made on him for transportation to various places and the destination is not limited to the state of Missouri.

Of course the colonel is generous. That is his reputation. This year, however, has been particularly trying on him.

He had scarcely left the train yesterday when a dozen persons, who are more less conspicuously identified with legislation, besieged him for a pass.

"Great Scott!" exclaimed the colonel, "give me a chance to get to my hotel and rest awhile."

But the pass "cormorants" gave him no peace. Somebody—not necessarily Col. Phelps—sent to Representative Richard J. Collins of St. Louis a 60-ride ticket.

Mr. Collins heard recently that his beneficent donor was the colonel, who is supposed to "handle blocks of free mileage," and he accordingly addressed to him the following communication:

Hon. W. H. Phelps, Missouri Pacific Railway Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge receipt of a 60-ride ticket, good on the Missouri Pacific Railway until March 31. While I appreciate your kindness in tendering this transportation, I feel that it would not only be inconsistent, but absolutely violative of my duty as a member of the Forty-second General Assembly to accept same. I was elected for a term of two years and I note that your transportation expires within two months. For this reason I entertain serious doubts as to whether there was any intention on your part to influence my action in trying to frame new laws for this commonwealth. The people of my district are unalterably opposed to the encroachments of railroads in public affairs. Since they have had a taste of railroad coercion in their private affairs, that is to say, my constituents claim that the railroads were the first to abuse the rights allowed them by the state. Against you personally, my dear Colonel, I have no prejudice, but my conscience directs me to follow the will of the voters of the Fifth St. Louis district. For your exclusive benefit, I call your attention to the following section:

Constitution of Missouri, article 12, section 24: Free passes, granting to state officers, forfeiture:

"No railroad or other transportation company shall grant free passes or tickets or passes or tickets at a discount to members of the General Assembly or Board of Equalization, or any state, county or municipal officer, and the acceptances of said pass or tickets by members of the General Assembly shall constitute a forfeiture of his office."

Again reminding you of the fact that my term of office does not expire on March 31, 1903, but on Dec. 31, 1904, I remain your friend,

RICHARD J. COLLINS.

By way of conclusion it may be stated that Col. Phelps did not answer this letter. In fact, he says, he does not remember having received it.

BILL TO CHANGE ST. LOUIS SCHOOLS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 3.—Senator John P. Collins of St. Louis intends to introduce, probably tomorrow, a bill to repeal the present law governing the condition and management of the St. Louis public schools and to enact, instead, the law which was in force prior to 1897.

Under the old law, the directors were elected by districts, two wards comprising a district. At present, they are elected at large.

Collins attempted to have such legislation passed two years ago, but did not succeed.

St. Louis was at the mercy of corruption and bossism in the management of the schools when the district system was in vogue. Collins says many school teachers favor the change, because of the arbitrary attitude assumed by the present superintendent of public schools.

"The teachers don't want a one-man power," said Senator Collins to the Post-Dispatch. "The schools, under existing arrangements, do what Mr. Soldan wants them to do."

Suffering From Gas Famine.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 3.—Huntington, Central City, Kenova and Ceredo, W. Va., and Ashland and Catlettsburg, Ky., are experiencing a gas famine, resulting from a break in the chief main leading from fields in Kentucky. Many factories have been closed and there is much suffering.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

House of Delegates Candidates.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice that some of the present members of the House of Delegates are candidates for re-election. If there is one of them who voted against street car legislation for our suffering city among the number I will devote some time and money to defeat him. Let's organize a nonpartisan movement in every ward where the candidate will not announce through the public press his intention to vote for any bill that will give us relief from the present street car conditions. It will take money and work to defeat objectionable candidates. Some of my money is ready on call of any honest endeavor to obtain relief from further neglect of public interest. Who is next? MY LOVE IS LIKE A WHIRLWIND.
(With apologies to the author of "My Love Is Like a Violet.)

My love is like a whirlwind;
Now here—and now he's gone.
He rises in the morning
Before the break of dawn.

He growls like distant thunder
And hurls his breakfast down,
And kisses me a fond good-by
With irritated frown.

He leaps upon the street car
And scans with eagle eye
The news that has been stirring
Beneath the whole great sky.

He bounds from off the moving car,
Is whirled up fourteen floors,
And e'er the mail is opened
Sends telegrams by scores.

Wild-eyed and eager clerks are there,
Strong for the strenuous life,
But they are far behind my love
In the mad din and strife.

And when the day of twenty hours
Is passed he heaves a sigh
And says: "Well! Well! the day is done?
My! how the time does fly.

Power of Bad Example.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In your issue of Feb. 18, I noticed the sayings of Pat Sheedy, the gambler. There is a great deal of truth in what he says. I will say that out of one thousand people only one perhaps is really honest. I will also tell you how this universal dishonesty came about. The people have noticed that educated and intelligent men have lived in style and luxury and amassed fortunes by dishonesty and robbery. The people did not dare say anything, for fine clothes and good manners abashed them then, but the veil has been lifted to them and they have lost respect for rascality and begun to think they could play at the same game because they found they were men of flesh and blood, just as the gentlemanly robbers were, who they had at one time thought were supernatural beings.

This does not mean that the ordinary man should continue to want to be a rascal, but that the gentlemanly rascal should give up his rascality and set a good example. Of course then he will have to work for his living. HONESTY.

Taxing Stocks and Bonds.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Our state solons are now deliberating on tax equalization. Wise action in this line is badly needed, especially as far as taxation on stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc., is concerned.

As the law now stands a tax of 2 per cent is supposed to be levied on these. Now, on a conservative basis such investments do not average more than 4½ to 5 per cent and a 2 per cent tax—nearly one-half of the income, is out of the question. A man having an income of $1,000 from these investments cannot be expected to pay about $450 out of same for taxes. As a consequence that law is almost a dead letter, and 99 per cent of that class of investments escape taxation.

Now, men are, I think, as a rule, not trying to shirk paying just taxes. Make the rate reasonable and most men will cheerfully pay them; make it prohibitive and they become uncollectable.

One-fifth of 1 per cent would be about a fair tax rate on stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc., and I venture to say that 10 times as much would be collected at that rate as on the 2 per cent basis.

St. Louis. STUDIOSUS.

"Chewing the Rag."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Mrs. H. G. Toler, in her very cleverly "slung" defense of slang, says she has not been able to trace that "rather elastic expression, 'chewing the rag.'"

Was it not Burns who declared that "the proof of the pudding is not in chewing the rag?" The pudding of the olden time we understand to have been boiled in a bag, or a rag tied up like a bag. Therefore, to undertake to determine the quality of a pudding by chewing the rag in which it had been boiled, was hazardous; that is, safe conclusions were not to be reached through merely suggestive testimony, and an argument based on such testimony was figuratively "chewing the rag."

However, this is not the idea conveyed at the present day by the term in this part of the country where "to chew the rag" means primarily to grumble and complain. Mrs. Foler is quite right in describing as "rather elastic" a term that seems to have stretched from "jumping at conclusions" to "calamity howling," notwithstanding the transition is regular, and not half so far-fetched as the Fat Contributor's lump of ice on a summer's day.

Little Rock, Ark. RAINY WILLIAMS.

Improve the System.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

You are certainly to be commended on your worthy article a few days ago on our street car system in this city, showing what had been done in New York by the concerted action of the people and business men. Cannot the Business Men's League of this city take the matter up? The Post-Dispatch has remedied a good many faults in this city, and if it would energetically and persistently follow up this most outrageous state of affairs it would not be 30 days before a change would take place. It seems as if the city officials whose duty it should be to see that the laws are enforced, are doubly indifferent to the needs of the traveling public. The thousands of people who stand on the street corners every day waiting for cars, lose in the aggregate an immense amount of time. The cars themselves are turned out in such a filthy condition that it is disgusting to ride in them. Most of the cleaning they get is what the passengers rub off the seats, sides and floors on their clothes. If the street car system of this city were an experiment, and doubtful whether it would pay a dividend on the capital invested, the present state of affairs might be tolerated; but when it has been proven beyond a doubt that it will pay a large dividend on the capital invested, and that to this a reasonable amount of water could be added, and still insure the running of cars in good shape, the people who own the franchises, which are the most valuable part of the undertaking, ought not to be compelled to suffer as they have during the management of the present transit company, so that a frantic effort might be made to pay dividends on about $80,000,000 of watered stock.

In the absence of city officials with backbone enough to keep this from being a jug-handled transaction the only rec... of the city ...

POST-DISPATCH RECORD OF FINANCES

OPENS ACTIVE WITH LOWER PRICES

Fate of the Aldrich Bill Gives the Bears Ammunition.

ADVANCE NOTED IN RAW COPPER

Monetary Situation Still Unsatisfactory and Banks Are Still Losing to the Sub-Treasury.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The opening this morning was active and lower all along the line, with but very few exceptions. London was an average of ⅝ lower, with orders for some 10,000 or 15,000 shares in this market.

The acknowledged defeat of the Aldrich bill gave the bears a chance to hammer prices, which they did not fail to take advantage of.

Manhattan was one of the few exceptions to lower prices and showed a gain of ⅝, while Metropolitan showed a corresponding decline.

Trading in Copper was very active on the opening and the sales were in good-sized blocks. There was a temporary drop in price, which was fully recovered and a gain noted in the trading of the first half hour, selling up to 73 after getting down to 72¼. Another advance in the raw copper gave strength to this stock, as also did its strength in the London market.

Wabash common and preferred sold off on strike news, the common making the most marked decline, selling down ⅞ on the opening price.

The banks are continuing to lose to the subtreasury and there is little in sight at present to give any encouragement for a favorable bank statement this week.

The money market is not at all satisfactory. Time money is scarce and higher and call loans are harder and a trifle higher.

Vermilye & Co. announce that they have bought $10,000,000 of the new Iron Mountain bonds. There will be $10,000,000 issued now and it is reported that those not taken by Vermilye & Co. will be taken by George J. Gould and J. D. Rockefeller.

After the early opening there was some reaction and fractional gains from the low point, in several instances recovering to the opening.

The public debt statement Feb. 28 shows the debt, less the amount of cash in the treasury, to be $937,972,898, which is $5,969,666 less than Jan. 31.

After the first reaction stocks took a sharp down turn, with only slight rallies. Rock Island had good sales and sold down to 46.

Butler Bros. were good buyers of Manhattan and sent the price up to 144, but the advance did not hold and it sold soon back to 143.

Sugar showed considerable strength, reaching 131⅝, but joined in the general decline later.

Colorado Fuel, for the first time in weeks, showed considerable activity. Opening at 71¼, a decline of ¾ from the last quotation, it sold to 69⅝ with but small recovery. No reason for this sudden activity is apparent.

In the face of a bear market and unfavorable labor news, the Wabashes showed remarkable strength. The declines were fractional, though the market was fairly active.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Selling orders were executed throughout the list at the opening, prompted by the apparent abandonment of the Aldrich financial bill. The Pacifics, grangers, Southwesterns, Metropolitan Street Railway, United States Steel preferred and other leading specialties were the principal sufferers and showed losses ranging up to near a point. Manhattan moved up strongly 1¼, contrary to the course of the market.

The market showed signs of being oversold and a covering movement by the shorts rallied prices all around. Recoveries did not exceed fractions except in Rock Island, which rallied a point after a drop of 1⅛. The market became unsteady before the expiration of the hour and then fell weakly to a lower point than before. Amalgamated lost 2⅜, Wabash preferred 2⅜ and St. Paul and Union Pacific 2.

Supporting orders appeared in all the leading stocks after the opening decline and their expectation, combined with the resumption of yesterday's rise in Manhattan, created some uneasiness among the shorts and they covered quite heavily all around. Most of the opening losses were canceled and some leaders, such as Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Metropolitan Street Railway, rallied to above last night. Free offerings of Rock Island undermined the market later and there was fresh selling of the Pacific and Southwestern stocks. Colorado Fuel showed exceptional weakness, dropping three points, while Sugar, on the other hand, advanced about a point.

Selling for both accounts was on a large scale during the second hour and the downward tendency was accentuated by the firmness of call money rates at 4 per cent. Bear traders offered down special stocks in large blocks for effect on the market, and succeeded in forcing out considerable stock. Losses of a point or over were well scattered throughout the list and included St. Paul, Atchison, Rock Island, New York Central, Union Pacific, Wabash preferred and a number of other important stocks. Manhattan and Sugar both lost their early gains and the market touched the lowest all around.

The bond market yielded slightly with special weakness in Wabash debentures.

Further inroads on prices were made all through the list, especially in the standard railroads and specialties. The absence of support made the bears very aggressive and stop loss orders were reached in some stocks. The market received occasional checks on the down grade by spasmodic covering and fresh selling immediately brought about a lower level than before. Wheeling & Lake Erie first preferred declined 4¾, Anaconda 3½, St. Louis & San Francisco 2⅞ and B. & O., Delaware & Hudson, Kansas & Texas preferred, Consolidated Gas, North American and Pacific Mail 2@2¼.

MORE BANK STOCK SOLD TODAY

Interest in Banking and Trust Company Securities on Exchange Today.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY WAS VERY ACTIVE

Traction Stocks Took a Secondary Place Today—Lighting Stocks Were Weaker and Miscellaneous List Was Dull.

Trading on the St. Louis Stock Exchange this morning took a new turn, when there was activity in the banking and trust company issues for the first time in some days.

There was almost no trading in the tractions and the miscellaneous list was unusually dull.

American Central Trust had buying orders all around the room. The talk this morning was to the effect that this company would go on a dividend basis on April 1. To the Post-Dispatch President Schnurmacher politely refused to discuss the question, but from his manner and information received from parties known to be in touch with the company, it can be safely said that an early dividend is much more than a possibility. The several orders on the floor this morning gave good color to the report.

For some unexplained reason Mississippi Valley Trust was freely offered this morning and there were sales of 220 shares, much more than was sold at a single session for some time. The price was also on the down turn, being at a decline of $2 from yesterday.

Commonwealth was also weaker, going at from $307.50 down to $306.50.

Lincoln Trust was stronger, a goodly order being on the floor at $259, which was apparently not filled during the session.

The tractions were neglected, there being but few bids or offers of Transit and the smallest trading in this stock for several sessions. The preferred did better than the Transit, having 120 shares to its credit, with no sales of the bonds.

Central Coal and Coke took a little lift, though there was only a small trading, the sales being $68.50 and $68.67½.

A. D. Grant was back on the floor this morning after an absence of nearly six weeks and announced his return to the harness by a single sale.

MANY NOVELTIES ON COLUMBIA BILL

An impression of George Day.

George W. Day, who, in cork, looks like the Post-Dispatch weather bird, is about the most amusing monologuist that has been heard at the Columbia this season. He has a lot of new stories and a comical song about the good old mother-in-law that tickled George Middleton most to death, and the mother-in-law, it will be remembered, is a ticklish thing to tackle at the Columbia.

Then there is the Princess Losoros, a real princess from the Hawaiian islands, with the most beautiful voice you ever heard in its particular line. It is as clear as a bell and as sweet as a bird. In fact, when the princess warbles, if you could not see her, you would certainly think it was a bird. Nothing like her singing has ever been heard in St. Louis.

There are two good sketches at the Columbia this week, one by Paul Barnes and company and one by the Ellinore sisters. Both are grotesque and both are different from anything seen this season. The Ellinore sisters did their sketch here once before, but it is ludicrous enough to make you laugh a second time. Both sketches are the broadest burlesque.

Other members on the program are: Prevost and Provost, acrobatic comedians; York and Adams, just two plain Hebrews; Hays and Suits, dancing artists; Stavordale Quintet, celebrated banjoists and harpists; Juggling Drawee, merry manipulator of odd objects; Waldron brothers, the German and the sport; Fred Stuber, banjo soloist; Gertie Le Clair and Tar Babies, in singing and dancing; Orth and Fern, in their musical trifle, "Sign That Book."

HELD INQUEST IN THE ROAD

Body Had Been Taken Across the County Line and Had to Be Brought Back.

Coroner McCracken of St. Clair County held an inquest in a public road near Collinsville, Tuesday morning on the body of a man which was resting in a wagon in which it had been brought from the undertaking rooms of Martin Schroetel of Collinsville.

The inquest was to determine the cause of the death of William Collier, found dead on the Vandalia tracks, in St. Clair County. The undertaker took the body to his establishment across the line in Madison County and the Coroner had it brought back. Collier was one of a colony of tramps, who fought Monday night over liquor. The jury thought it probable that some of the other tramps had killed the man and placved his body on the railroad tracks and ordered a postmorted. Ten tramps are under arrest.

STEP PASSENGER HAS RIGHTS.

Court of Appeals Holds He May Sue for Injuries.

The time honored theory of railroad companies that they are not liable for damages for anything that may happen to a passenger reckless enough to stand upon the steps of a car received a setback in the St. Louis Court of Appeals Tuesday, when the verdict for the defendant in the case of John Fleming vs. the Suburban Street Railway Co. was declared unjust and the case remanded for another trial.

Fleming started for the Kinloch race track Oct. 29, 1900. At the Wabash tracks the conductor got off to run ahead of the car and look out for locomotives. When the street car started ahead Fleming was standing on the steps, but the conductor jumped on and Fleming was thrown off by being tripped up by the conductor. The verdict in the Circuit Court was for the company.

Too Busy to Bury.

From the Kansas City Journal.

The exposed and bleaching skeleton of a white man, partly covered with a rotten wagon box, is causing some unpleasant remarks from the settlers in the Creek nation, 10 miles east from Stroud, where the bones are lying unburied. Some claim that a white man was killed there and his remains covered with an old wagon box. The remains, a territorial exchange thinks, deserve proper burial.

KLING TRYING TO REGAIN LAURELS

Leads Champion Hueston in First Block of the Pool Match.

Johnnie Kling caught "Kid" Hueston, state pool champion, out of form at the Broadway Monday night in the first section of a 400-point continuous pool match and on the first 100 finishing 14 points to the good.

Though failing to run a full frame, Hueston handled his cue well and negotiated a few shots that indicate what may be expected of him when he recovers his form. He was the same cool, calculating expert and allowed nothing to disconcert him. He was just as steady when the score was 53 to 18 against him as when he was on his last frame and in front.

Kling studied out combinations with the cleverness of a safe expert. He took chances and got away with his most daring attempts when a miss might have lost him the game.

Hueston had the best of it until he had gathered a few more than half the points needed. Kling tied the score on the run of 47. In the last frame with two to go he was puzzled by Hueston's clever break. After sighting from every angle he called a ball for the corner and drove it in when it seemed that he had no chance.

The second block of points will be played Tuesday night at the Broadway and the third at the same place Wednesday afternoon. The final section is scheduled for Wednesday night and the game will start early, as Kling will depart for Kansas City on a train at 10 o'clock. He wanted to stay in St. Louis to play another match or two but Manager Kelee of the Chicago baseball club declined to give his consent and Johnnie will accompany the Cubs to California on their training trip.

TURF TALK.

Bookmaker Fred Cook, the local horseowner, will race his stable on the Metropolitan tracks for the first time this season. It will be trained by Ed Brown and William Phillips.

The string is a large one, containing about 35 horses, including 22 2-year-olds.

The crack of his stable is Bessie Spahr, the sensational 2-year-old of two years ago. Bessie went wrong last year and did not race. She was highly thought of for the American Derby. As a sprinter she was unrivaled, being able to reel off five furlongs in less than a minute at any time.

It is to be hoped that she will stand training this year, and if she does, eastern turf writers will have some sensational work to record.

Following are the horses which will carry Mr. Cook's colors:

NO MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT.

Ryan Refuses to Scrap.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 3.—In response to the challenge of Bob Fitzsimmons to make 158 pounds and battle Tommy Ryan of the middleweight championship, Ryan said:

"I am not ready to meet the Cornishman now, and he knows it. I have come here for the baths and to get in condition, but had a serious setback by breaking a ligament in one of my wrists while sparring with Curry, of Cincinnati.

"All this must have been told to Fitzsimmons. I will fight him when I get ready, and that may be a long time. I am the champion now, and he can wait and bide his time."

Fitz Claims Championship.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Fitzsimmons said today that Ryan was the man above all others he wanted to meet. He also said that Ryan knew him to be middleweight champion. Nobody ever beat him for it and nobody has challenged him, except Ryan, and now he refuses.

M'GOVERN WILL NOT BATTLE TONIGHT

Former Champion's Contest With Ryan Canceled, Owing to Terry's Illness.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Terry McGovern has been compelled to call off his bout with Billy Ryan of Syracuse, which was scheduled for tonight, and is now at his home in Brooklyn, suffering from an attack of grip. It was said that he had a high fever, his vitality was low and that he was on the verge of a serious illness. Sam Harris, McGovern's manager, says that the Brooklyn lightweight has been ill for several days, but did not realize there was anything serious the matter with him until Saturday, when he called in the doctors to attend him.

McGovern is virtually matched to fight Young Corbett in San Francisco on March 15. It was his intention to leave for Frisco tomorrow, but Harris will call off the match with Young Corbett and begin training. Harris says that they will start if McGovern is well enough.

SPORT NOTES

Frank Maggioli and Lloyd Jevne will play a special three-cushion billiard match at the Grand Academy Tuesday night for a side stake. The champion will attempt to count 30 while Maggioli is registering 25.

Jockey Otto Wonderly has signed to ride this year for the W. H. Tichenor stable. He will get $15,000 for his season's work.

Will H. Locke, formerly sporting editor of the Pittsburg Press, is the new secretary of the Pittsburg ball club, succeeding Harry Pulliam, now president of the National League.

A Kansas lawmaker wants to prohibit Sunday baseball and football. If they stop these games out, there like they did the rule of 9 o'clock, there may be any attention paid to the bill if it is passed.

The playing schedule for the Three-Eye League has been issued. The season opens May 1 and closes Sept. 12.

Harry Pulliam, president of the National League, has written to Ban Johnson, president of the American League, asking when the advance money received from certain clubs in the National League players now in the American will be returned. He suggests that Davis, Delehanty and Conroy "ante up." How about that prize pair, Mathewson and Bowerman, who held up the St. Louis American League club for $500 apiece?

SKATING SEASON CLOSES.

Benefit for John Davidson at Ice Palace.

When the bell rang for the final closing of the Ice Palace Monday night, 200 skaters were whirling around the rink and refused to be driven off until they had skated to their heart's content. Thus the skating season in St. Louis ended.

John Davidson's benefit brought out a crowd that filled the galleries, but the program was somewhat marred by the impatient skaters, who crowded on the ice after every event and would not quit until the "life line" swept them off.

The hockey game between the Triple A and Ice Palace teams was a thing of joy. They were all comedians and their demonstration of how not to play hockey amused the spectators. The game was nothing but a jumble of boys, skates and sticks. The Triple A team won by a score of 3 to 1.

Following this was a race between Leo Farrell and Jerry O'Gorman, winners of the boys' half mile and mile championships, respectively. The distance was a half mile, but on the seventh lap O'Gorman fell and could not close the gap the accident had opened.

Andy Blong won the scratch half mile race from William McKinney and Vivian Dobbs, but the time was rather poor, as the ice was badly cut up and would not admit of good speed. The boys skated from scratch, Blong taking the lead for about three laps. Dobbs then got out in front, with McKinney second.

It looked as though Blong was out of it, but when the last lap was reached he swung ahead with long strides. At the three-quarter pole he had passed Dobbs and turned the corner neck and neck with McKinney. On the home stretch he held the pace and finished four or five feet ahead of Dobbs.

Davidson gave a sensational exhibition of skating on stilts three feet high. He turned and twisted every way, skated on one foot, backward, and in long sweeping curves, ending by a difficult spread eagle. At the conclusion of his performance Bob Grace presented him with a silver loving cup from his friends and members of the Ice Palace hockey team.

CHAMPION WOMAN TENPIN BOWLER OF ST. LOUIS

MRS. ROBERT HASSELBACH.

Mrs. Hasselbach Wins a Diamond Medal by Rolling Game of 230.

Mrs. Robert Hasselbach of 727 Carpenter place is the champion woman tenpin bowler of St. Louis.

Games of 200 or better are not rare performances for Mrs. Hasselbach. Sunday night, on the Palace alleys, in an eight-game match with her husband she won a diamond medal by rolling a game of 230.

Mrs. Hasselbach learned the tenpin game in Chicago, where that style is very popular. She came to St. Louis about 2½ months ago and since then has met and defeated Miss Kern, who is considered one of the most skillful bowlers among the fair sex in St. Louis.

The management of the Palace put up a diamond pin or bowling emblem to go to the first woman making better than 210 on those alleys. Mrs. Hasselbach rolled her high score in the seventh game Sunday night.

Mr. Hasselbach is no "cub" bowler, but he was bested in every one of the eight games except the first, which he won by a margin of three pins. In the third game, when Mrs. Hasselbach was in a fair way to register a high score, her foot slipped and she ball rolled off the alley. So good was her start, however, she finished with a score of 195.

Following is her score by games: 145, 178, 154, 195, 145, 154, 230, 182. Total, 1379. Average, 172⅝.

CHARLEY WHITE SAYS IT WILL BE AN EVEN BREAK

Referee Calls Attention to Some of Terry McGovern's Defects in Fighting.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Never have two pugilists been more evenly matched than Terry McGovern and his conqueror, Young Corbett. They will soon meet again for the featherweight championship of the world.

Charley White, who has refereed many hundreds of battles, says:

"Terry was, when he won the featherweight championship, the greatest little Queensbury glove fighter of his day.

"Since that time Terry's life of theatrical engagements has led the sporting public to believe that he has gone back in form.

"His defeat by Young Corbett has led many to think that the stage was his Waterloo. McGovern denies this.

"Terry's contempt for his opponent's pugilistic powers leads him into the belief that he can go in with his face unprotected and take a blow upon the vital points without any guard to break the force. That is McGovern's chief fault.

"No man yet in the fighting game can afford to expose his jaw and face to an opponent as McGovern does.

"In his fight with Joe Bernstein he was the Terry of old. He had all his speed and the punch. It took all the craftiness of Bernstein and all his knowledge of holds to stave Terry off for six rounds.

"McGovern was very wild in his deliveries, missing swing after swing. After that performance I came to the conclusion that Terry was as good as ever, and I so proclaimed my belief. All he needed was to improve his marksmanship and his eyesight.

"In the first round of the fight with Maynard McGovern had all the best of it. The second round began with Terry little less than a cyclone, but as he proceeded all of his defects began to develop. Suddenly he slowed up, apparently to get wind. Maynard then became the aggressor and hit safely as often as did Terry, who had he been in his former condition, would have ended it in one or two good jabs. Distinctly, Terry did not show his old punching ability, or Maynard would not have lived through that second round.

"At the end of the third round, Terry, to my way of thinking, was a bit tired in his legs. Terry must change his style of training and a little of his ideas of living to get back his wind and to retain his strength of legs.

"These are McGovern's three defects:

"1. He stops punches with his head and face, knowing that he can eat them up.

"2. His swings wild and has lost his accuracy of aim through anxiety and a bit of failing eyesight.

"3. His new ideas of training himself along the old lines, with a little side issue of indulgence, have impaired Terry's wind and leg work.

"With careful attention to these defects the American sporting public may rest assured that McGovern will be just as good as ever.

"Comment has been made upon McGovern's style affecting the Queensberry rules. I want to say that he is one of the fairest Queensbury rule fighters in this respect; holds. This is the proper thing. He makes his opponent hold him in an effort to stop the shower of blows.

"Should McGovern correct the faults indicated here, the next championship battle should be a great one and should be in doubt to the time the men enter the ring. In my judgment it will be an even break."

GLEN ECHO BOOMS A NOVEL SPORT

Lawn Bowl, an Outdoor Tenpin Game, Featured at Normandy.

Glen Echo Country Club will introduce a novelty in the way of sport to its members this year. This will be the game of lawn bowls, popular among eastern country clubs, but so far new to St. Louis.

Lawn bowls is somewhat similar to tenpins, but is played on the green. Grounds will be laid out at the new Glen Echo Club, Normandy, and an effort will be made to boom the sport.

The club directors have just concluded letting contracts for the new club building and for the remodeling of the grounds and premises.

According to the plans in the hands of the contractors, arrangements will be made for lawn tennis, as well as the club's original stand-by, golf. The lakes of the grounds have been stocked with fish and a shooting range will be laid out.

The golf course will be one of the best 18-hole courses in the country, according to the prospectus.

The plans further call for a remodeling and enlarging of the clubhouse and additional sleeping rooms will be added, among other improvements.

The management has made especial arrangements to make this year's Glen Echo [illegible] greatest in the history of the

CRESCENTS MEET ACME FIVE AGAIN

Crack Central League Cocked-Hat Teams Should Furnish Feature Contest Tuesday.

BOWLING GAMES TUESDAY.

Central League—Acmes vs. Crescents, Crescent alleys; 1904s vs. Centurys, Royal alleys.

Kindergarten League—Lacledes vs. Clippers, Acme alleys.

Newspaper League—Pueseys vs. Sievers and Richters vs. Fishers, Pueser alleys.

World's Fair League—Towers at home to Shenandoahs, Centrals at home to Black Labels and St. Louis at home to Ann Avenues.

Central League will again furnish the cocked-hat feature games Tuesday night on local alleys. The Crescents and the Acmes will have it out on the Crescent boards for the manyeth time this year. The Acme five has been running a great race for the bottom, during the second series, notwithstanding the efforts of those two veteran rollers Shaw and Mitchell. The Crescents, on the contrary, have kept their pace set in the early part of the first series and not a chance for the first place is in view for the Acmes—not to the naked eye, at least.

Mitchell got busy and cast a horoscope of the future of the once great five, but all he saw was hills and the Acmes were not hitting the high places.

The 1904s and the Centurys, also of the Central League, will try out their fortunes on the Royal alleys.

The Juniors and the Banners of the big league were to have furnished the event of the night Monday, but owing to the failure of the Banners to have their flags out there was little doing. The Juniors took about all there was in sight and won five games, although the enemy rolled a fast clip and averaged better than 52 as a team.

The Juniors, however, put up a championship speed and not a man on the team fell below 52. Dowling went better than 62. Hirsch passed 60 and the others were well up. Team average: 56 2-25.

Hoberg and Becker for the losers, both rolled 56. That the winning team deserved its victory is shown by the cocked and missed pin column. The Junior rolled 3 more center punches than the enemy and tallied 24 less misses.

Kindergarten League.

In the match between the Automatics and the Banks, the former five made a clean sweep. Several of the finishes were close, one game going to the Automatics by a single pin. Kell was the only roller on either team to reach the 50 average mark.

In the Woodward-Tiernan league, two contests were played Tuesday night. The Office won 4 games of 5 from the Joins in the first, and the Lithos beat the Presses 3 to 2 in the second.

TENPINS.

Dispatches from Cincinnati state that the St. Louis tenpin five, which is touring the vicinity, won another match Monday night from the Queen City Ki-Ki team. Prieuger, Saunders, Funcke, Kern and Elwert were the local bowlers. In the fray and they showed their speed by winning two straight games and the match, with scores close to the thousand mark for the team.

Tuesday the St. Louis team will take on the Oriental stars at Cincinnati, according to the schedule forwarded and Thursday the Kro Imans.

A match between the Kasagras and the Postoffice tenpin team resulted in a 2 to 1 victory for the former five Monday night.

A special cocked-hat contest between the Wittes and the Habenichts, both two-men teams, bowled Monday night on Helderle's alleys, resulted in a victory for the first-named team, score 6 to 2. Witte and Habenicht rolled for the winners and Hasenbrig and Vorg for the losers.

ERB LEAVES COLUMBIA

NEW YORK, March 3.—William Erb, ex-quarterback on the Leland Stanford Junior University football team and quarter on the Columbia varsity team last season, has been engaged as the football coach of Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., for next season. Applications for Erb's services as gridiron coach were also received from several Illinois and Kentucky colleges. Erb's absence next fall will deprive the Columbia team of its strongest quarterback.

ECZEMA SETS THE SKIN ON FIRE

No disease causes so much bodily discomfort, or itches, burns and stings like Eczema. Beginning often with a slight redness of the skin it gradually spreads, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes which dries and scales off or forms bad looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body but oftenest upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when overheated.

In 1896 I experienced at times patches on the inside of my hands that itched and burned, causing much discomfort. As time went by it grew worse, and I was convinced that I was afflicted with Eczema. I consulted several physicians and a number of specialists, and used several external applications, receiving but slight temporary relief. In February I decided to try S. S. S., and in less than a month I experienced a change for the better, and by May all symptoms had disappeared, and I found myself entirely cured, and have had no return of the disease since. W. P. BRUSH, Manager Stockman's Advertising Agency. Station A, Kansas City, Mo.

The cause of Eczema is a too acid and general unhealthy condition of the blood. The terrifying itching and burning is produced by the overflow through the glands and pores of the skin of the fiery poisons with which the blood-current is over-loaded. While external applications, such as washes, soaps, salves and powers are soothing and cooling they do not enter into the blood itself or touch the real cause of the disease, but S. S. S. does, and purifies, enriches, and strengthens the thin acid blood and cleanses and builds up the general system, when the skin clears off and Eczema with all its terrifying symptoms disappears.

DONOVAN ENLISTS ANOTHER RECRUIT

How the Cardinal Leader Succeeded Where Others Failed.

Patsy Donovan will keep away from Kansas City for a season or two until the citizens of that village can forget and forgive him for rudely yanking to St. Louis the only ball player that ever came over the Kansas City pike.

For, be it known, Mr. Donovan has gone right up and rudely slapped Kansas City in the face by signing one Robert Smith, a youth of great baseball ability. That in itself is not so great an offense, but when the whole truth is known Kansas City must be pitied.

Mr. Smith has a good "mercantile" position in Kansas City. Deponent sayeth that Walter Wilmot, Bandmaster Strobel, perhaps even Charley Nichols and owners of various other minor league teams went down on their knees and made supplication for one encouraging word from this young man, who apparently shrank from the calcium glare.

Now, after Smith, rather uncommon name, that, had declined to give up his lucrative position, as the country correspondent would say, the people of Kansas City were content to keep him with them as a private citizen. But that he should pass up Kansas City for St. Louis—that was the most unkindest pass of all.

Smith is an infielder. The word sounds familiar, but it has been so long since a real infielder has plugged up the left side of the diamond at the League Park that the genuine article must be great to gaze upon. If he can't be counted in as a regular position, a special concession will be granted by the National League whereby Smith will be allowed to play between first and second bases. That is also if the only opposition that seems to be in sight for him, The office of sergeant-major of the infield battalion may be reserved for him. Donovan is in need of a few efficient assistant generals, for if he marches on Texas with his army of ball players and captures the best hotel and all the rations in Dallas he may start another war, and the country is weary of war.

Smith's tag will be put on him when he reports next week. It really is too trying a mental task to try to think of his number. It's about No. 28.

Charley Nichols told Donovan all about this young man. Nichols and Donovan used to play on the Bloomington years ago. Now Charley owns the Kansas City Western League team. He is considered a good judge of players.

"You can't afford to lose this jewel," spraved Charley, "if you let him get away there will be one sparkler gone from the Cardinal crown. I have a straight tip from a friend of mine who overheard a friend of his telling an old schoolmate of his that he has positive information that Smith admitted that he could be induced to come to St. Louis.

"Don't pass him up. Every club in the Western League and American Association offered from $50,000 to $000,000.00 for him but he spurned, mind you, spurned, their gold. A word to the wise is sufficient."

So Donovan went out and got his man. He kept the deal quiet until he had completed the deal for fear that the loss to the "mercantile" world would result in a panic, but so far Wall Street is reported to be only tottering.

Manager Jim McAleer is behind time, but he is due in St. Louis today unless the wireless telegraph reports received of him are erroneous. There was a report yesterday that McAleer and one or two of his ball players arrived in St. Louis so engrossed in a game of cards that they didn't notice Union Station and passed right on through. If that is the case they will return today.

The playing schedule of the American and National Leagues will be promulgated this week. The National meeting is set for Wednesday at New York and the American the day following at the same place. Ban Johnson has announced that he will tell just where the New York grounds are located, a question that has bothered metropolitan scribes for many months.

GRAIN BULLS HANDICAPPED

News Favored Buying Side but Not Enough Good Buying.

CORN FAILS TO HOLD AN ADVANCE

Prospects for a Cold Wave and Strong Cables Features in Wheat—Manipulation in Corn.

Grain.

How the bull side of wheat is handicapped by the dullness in speculation was well illustrated today. Prospects for another freeze and the growing crop unprotected by snow in the greater portion of the winter wheat country, a strong Liverpool cable, with a side line of bullish comments by Broomhall, and an impressively large slice of the world's visible supply cut out by Bradstreet's, yet with this bullish array of information, winding up with a pretty good export business reported, the best gotten out of it was ⅛c advance, and most of that was lost by the close. People in the trade who feel bearish can hardly be blamed for so feeling. Manipulation of corn has not so far produced any great results for those who are working the manipulation. The outsiders don't come in, though Chicago houses and papers are putting out the most enticing bull literature they can possibly invent, and without outside help the market acts powerful heavy. Probably the outsiders have not forgotten what Armour manipulation did to them. Oats are in the "nothin' doin'" class so far as speculation goes.

WHEAT—Pretty severe weather in the extreme Northwest, with the accompaniment of a high barometer that might mean a further drop in temperature, excited enough uneasiness among short sellers to start some of them to buying this morning. The government in its report on February weather and crop conditions had summed up the condition of winter wheat at the end of the month as very satisfactory, any damage being thus indicated as unimportant. But the fact that little snow protected the plant at present made the prospect for a cold wave appear very menacing, and more than offset the favorable statement of the government.

Besides the weather scare was an advance of ¼@⅜d in Liverpool, which was a very full response to the gain on this side the water yesterday, thus having a bullish influence, where a reported decline of 90 centimes (about 4½c) in Paris was only regarded as the finish of late manipulation in that market and had no effect on domestic markets. Receipts were still free at this point, 50,400 bu having come in, against 23,100 bu a year ago, but the stock had decreased 21,000 bu, largely through shipments by boat to a Tennessee mill. At Minneapolis and Duluth 2[illegible]6 cars posted, against 289 last year.

The volume of trading was rather light and almost entirely of a professional character, the buying by shorts the feature. May opened ⅛c higher at 72⅝@72¾c, sold up to 72⅞c and back to 72⅝@72¾c. July opened ¼c better at 71⅛@71¼c and then sold at 71⅜c.

After the early demand was satisfied the market softened somewhat, May selling at 72⅝c and July offered at 71c. Bradstreet's report on available supply was so bullish that better buying came in and May sold up to 27⅞c, having 72⅞@73c bid at one time and 71⅞c for July.

The latest Liverpool showed a well sustained advance of ⅜d, and Broomhall cabled over some bullish intelligence regarding probable war supplies for England and less favorable reports from the crop of India. Paris showed no change at the close from the day before, indicating the earlier reported large decline was an error in transmission. Berlin was ⅛c better and Budapest ⅜c lower. The clearances were larger, but still moderate.

Bradstreet's reported 1,902,000 bu decrease last week in the world's visible against 362,000 bu increase a year ago, and indicating a decrease of 1,764,000 bu at points outside the official visible, where a year ago there was 346,000 bu decrease. Primary receipts for the day were 288,000 bu, against 469,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 1[illegible]6,000 bu, against 189,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 421,000 bu.

The advance that just failed to reach 73c appeared to exhaust bullish possibilities for the day, the market gradually easing off on a lack of buying power due to predictions for snow and weakening at other points, and May sold back to 72⅝c, closing at 72⅝@72¾c sellers. This was in the face of reported export sales of 40 loads. July was better sustained, selling at 71¼c, though 71⅛c asked at close.

Cash market—Received 45 cars local and 11 cars through. Steady, but the demand light for soft winter, confined mainly to filling in lot orders from outside mills, only 6000 bu selling from store to go out, the buying by city mills almost nil except 10,000 No. 2 red from elevators. There was a much better demand from millers for hard winter and exporters were also after it. By sample delivered—No. 2 red sold at 74½c east side, local and 74c west and 75½ east side destination weights; No. 3 red at 70c for poor to 72@73c west and 72¾ east side local and 74½@75c east side destination; No. 4 at 60c to 70c for poor to choice; No. 2 hard quotable at 71c to 73½c, latter Turkey; No. 3 hard sold at 66@67c for export, 69@70½c for milling and Turkey, worth 72c; No. 4 hard at 46@65c.

CORN—It was the manipulated market at Chicago that was the working influence this morning, an advance there causing prices to move up here, but only 1-16c gain made, so light was speculative interest, killed, it might be said, by fear of manipulation. Colder weather was in prospect and receipts were large, the arrivals here 121,500 bu, where only 50,500 bu in one year ago, and an advance of ⅛@¼d in Liverpool not in line with the advance in this country yesterday.

May opened at 42¼c and then sold at 42⅜@42½c. July was neglected.

A weaker market followed the early advance, though all the Chicago wire gossip was bullish concerning supplies and demand and the strong people in the deal, which probably bait to catch suckers. May sold off to 42c, but later 42⅛c bid.

Bradstreet's indicated 535,000 bu decrease last week at points outside the visible, against 16,000 bu decrease a year ago. Primary receipts were 777,000 bu, against 349,000 bu a year ago, and shipments 548,000 bu, against 284,000 bu last year. Clearances were 341,000 bu.

On another spurt in Chicago the market 42⅝@42¾ was bid for May, but this strong spot soon faded away and an increased selling pressure followed a decline to 41⅞c took place, that price being asked at close. July was not mentioned in the pit all day and closed nominally at 41½c. Not much export business reported—10 loads.

Cash market—Received 193 cars local and 22 cars through. Stronger for car lots that could go out, the shipping demand being urgent and all orders could not be filled. Otherwise the demand was moderate and mainly to go to store at steady prices. Sales basis destination weights were at 45c for No. 2, 44½@45c for No. 3, 45c for No. 2 and No. 3 yellow, 45½c for No. 2 and No. 3 white. Local weights at 42c for No. 2 and No. 2 yellow, 41½c for No. 3, 43@43½c for No. 2 white, 42½@43c for No. 3 white. White Kaffir sold at 62½c.

OATS—Any large lot of the actual oats had come in there during the preceding 24 hours as evidenced by the posting of 99,900 bu receipts this morning, which compared with 77,000 bu a year ago. The speculative trades gave no heed at all to this grain during the first hour of trading.

The future market really received no attention at any time during the forenoon. An indifferent ⅛d of 35c being made for May.

Bradstreet's indicated 67,000 bu increase last week at points outside the visible, against 123,000 bu increase a year ago. Primary receipts were 632,000 bu, against 337,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 309,000 bu, against 286,000 bu last year. Clearances 56,000 bu.

A bid of 35¼c was made for May finally, but that tempted no one to sell and "nothing doing" continued to represent the speculative market.

Cash market—Received 46 cars local and 28 cars through. Steady and a good shipping and fair local demand that cleaned up the greater part of the offerings. By sample delivered, No. 2 sold at 36c and for seed at 37c; No. 3 at 35c local and 36c destination; No. 4 at 34@34½c and 35c; No. 3 white at 36@37c for poor to choice local; No. 4 white at 34½@35½c local and 35½@36¼c destination. No. 2 white salable at 38c.

Rye—Higher for No. 2, which sold at 50@50½c delivered east side. No. 3 quotable at 48@48½c.

Trade Topics.

In its summary of weather-crop conditions for February the government weather bureau says: "Winter wheat was well protected with the snow covering during the severe weather from the 15th to the 19th, and the reports at the close of the month indicate that the crop is in very satisfactory condition. In portions of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, however, the crop has sustained some injury from alternate freezing and thawing, while lowlands have suffered to some extent from overflows in the lower Ohio valley." The report by states indicates that the wheat crop of southern Illinois has suffered the most. Of the Missouri crop it states that winter wheat was well protected by snow during the severe cold weather, but in localities it suffered somewhat from alternate thawing and freezing during the fore part of the month and again during the last week. Except in a few counties, however, the crop is generally reported in fair to good condition.

Minneapolis wires: "Four mills have shut down on account of the freight situation."

A Chicago message makes the following statement: "On December 1st the northwestern country elevator stocks were 5,627,000 bu under a year ago, and on December 1st the Minneapolis stock of wheat was 5,541,000 bu under last year. Now its stock is only 601,000 bu under. On December 1st the northwestern country elevators and the Minneapolis stocks were together 11,168,000 bu under last year and now they are only 1,172,000 bu under. Something, the price or a factor equally potent, has reduced the deficiency compared with last year in these two items in fourteen weeks 10,000,000 bu." These figures show very plainly how much greater the drafts upon these northwestern stocks were during these fourteen weeks of last season than they have been during the same period of the present season."

Cash business in Chicago yesterday was 50,000 bu corn and 85,000 bu oats. At the seaboard exporters took 150,000 bu wheat and 40,000 bu corn.

The Belle of Calhoun left for Nashville, Tenn., at noon today, loaded with 25,000 bu of wheat that had been sacked from elevator for shipment to the Liberty Mills of that city. Inability to secure sufficient railroad transportation was the cause of this shipment by the water route, the first of wheat, by the way, ever made from St. Louis to a Tennessee point, though that state ships wheat to St. Louis every year. The chartering of this boat for this shipment was made by B. L. Long & Co. of this market, they purchasing 60,000 bu No. 2 red, the first of which went out today. The boat will be held in commission for further shipments.

Good authority has it that the Louisville & Nashville road has notified the lumber interests along their line that they can have all the cars they want for shipments to the North. This would mean an increase in the car service of that road and probable enlargement in shipments from the North to the Southeast.

Liverpool wheat prices at opening were unchanged, but later all months advanced on covering by shorts, induced partly by a better spot demand, but more particularly to less favorable reports from the northwest of India, the exportable surplus from that country being reduced. Corn opened unchanged, but steadied ⅛d on a better demand for spot corn and in sympathy with wheat.

Broomhall cables, so Rooke has wired, that on Thursday the prime minister of England will receive a deputation on the question of the food supply of Great Britain in case of war. If the reception is favorable it may have a somewhat bullish effect on the market.

The weather bureau's snow map shows that snow has entirely disappeared in the central valleys and the winter wheat plant is without protection.

Bradsteet's report on available supplies shows a decrease of 2,402,000 bu last week in wheat stocks east of the Rockies, against 638,000 bu decrease one year ago, and indicating 1,764,000 bu decrease at points outside the regular visible last week, where a year ago there was 346,000 bu decrease. European supplies afloat and ashore increased 500,000 bu, so that the world's visible decreased 1,902,000 bu, where a year ago it increased 362,000 bu. The corn available decreased 797,000 bu last week, against 472,000 decrease one year ago and 262,000 bu decrease last week in the regular visible. Oats increased 891,000 bu, against 59,000 bu decrease a year ago and 824,000 bu increase last week in the visible.

Liverpool cables: Broomhall will publish today the following summary of foreign crop conditions: In the United Kingdom the outlook is satisfactory; vegetation is forward. The weather in France is favorable for reseeding, although some complaints are still received. Germany is experiencing mild weather and crop reports are mostly of a favorable tenor, although some complaints have been received. News regarding crop prospects in central and southwest Russia is contradictory. The weather is now spring-like. Crop reports from many districts of Hungary unsatisfactory. Situation in Italy favorable.

Today 45,000 bu No. 2 red wheat is loading into barges from Burlington elevator for shipment to New Orleans, thence to be exported. This sale was made some time ago.

NURSES ON STRIKE CRIPPLED HOSPITAL

Experts of New York Eye and Ear Infirmary Go Out to Force a Change

NEW YORK, March 3.—Failing in their efforts to have their new superintendent removed, the expert trained nurses of the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary have left the institution in a body.

Dr. Richard M. Derby, executive surgeon of the hospital, said that their act not only seriously crippled the infirmary temporarily, but that after their departure it was found that records of patients had been destroyed, lotions mixed, glasses and bottles disarranged and the keys of the instrument cases concealed.

The strike of the nurses placed the institution in a helpless state for a time, and it was necessary to ask assistance from other hospitals, in order to attend to the 57 patients who were in the wards.

Recently it was thought desirable to get a new superintendent of nurses, and Miss Stewart, a graduate of the training school at the Presbyterian Hospital, was employed. The subordinates did not take kindly to the change of rule.

DEATH THE END OF HIS SPREE

Police Investigating the Demise of Sylvester Sands, 17 Years Old, Who Drank Too Much.

The police have undertaken to explain the death of Sylvester Sands of 2631 Cass avenue and Tuesday were following up clews.

Sands, who was 17 years of age, accompanied Leo Burget to a dance in South St. Louis Saturday night and drank heavily. Sunday morning they continued drinking at the saloons in the neighborhood of Cass and Jefferson avenues. In the saloon of M. Carl, 2703 Cass avenue, Sands fell to the floor in a stupor after taking a drink. He was removed to his home, but did not regain consciousness before his death, at 3:30 Monday afternoon.

SPLENDOR SEEN IN REX'S REIGN

Mardi Gras of 1903 Surpassed All Previous Spectacles in Magnificence.

ALICE ROOSEVELT WAS THE UNCROWNED QUEEN

Comus Pageant the Most Dazzling, Rex and His Consort Handsomest Mimic Monarch Ever Seen.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—King Carnival is dead, but the Lenten peal that rang his knell ended a reign so glorious that it will go down in history as Mirth's greatest triumph over the Old World's woes. Mardi Gras of 1903 has surpassed all previous efforts, and New Orleans may assume the penitential sackcloth in the afterglow of a spectacle whose alluring splendor might well disturb the meditations of St. Anthony himself.

It was a royal pageant. And the throngs that witnessed it were larger by 50 per cent than those of any previous year. Celebrities bristled at the splendid court which hailed Rex and his lovely helpmeet and Comus and the partner of his throne. But among them all none was more distinguished for the courtesies showered upon her and the modest charm with which she received them than Miss Alice Roosevelt, the daughter of the President, whose wholesome delight in the whole mad, beautiful revel was one of the prettiest features. She was the uncrowned queen, and her loyal subjects were as many as the sands of the sea.

Many Guests of Great Note.

Miss Edith Root, daughter of the secretary of war; Miss Stevenson, daughter of Adlai Stevenson; those two famous figures, Rear-Admiral Schley and Gen. Joe Wheeler, who are invariably seen together and constantly kept busy acknowledging ovations; Admiral Rivet of the French navy, Col. A. K. McClure and others of international importance lent a brilliancy to balls and other gatherings. All united in pronouncing the carnival peerless. The carnival organizations outdid themselves in the gorgeousness of parades. In short, every element of success was present, and without a hitch to mar the sequence of the program the dazzling picture unrolled itself.

Perhaps the most striking figure in the personnel of the carnival was that of Miss Mary Ingersoll Minge, the queen, who added to her youth and beauty all the splendid trappings that wealth could provide. Miss Minge is the daughter of C. H. Minge, a millionaire cotton merchant, who made her entry into society—and New Orleans society is possibly the most exclusive in the country—with a distinction that won her immediate recognition. Her royal robes were imported at great cost and she wore them with a stateliness as if born to the purple.

King Never Had Such Suite.

Such a suite as that which accompanied the monarch! There was the Duke of Santiago (Admiral Schley), the little Duke of Dixie (Gen. Joe Wheeler) and any amount of lesser personages with detachments of the Household Guards, field artillery, naval reserves, His Majesty's Royal Continentals, mounted chevaliers and what not. Rex rode on a car of state surrounded by his council in robes that rivaled the sun in glittering bravery.

"If Ever I Cease to Love" was the royal anthem that preceded Rex everywhere. His pageant portrayed fetes and feats, and the tableaux of the different cars were splendidly artistic in effect. The Peruvian Sun Feast, Amor and Psyche and the Love Feast were three of the most attractive.

Rex's ball at night in the Washington Artillery hall was in keeping with the grandeur of his entry. The flags of every nation were mingled in the decorations. The hangings were of velvet in the royal colors. On the raised dais the throne was placed under a canopy of cloth of gold. The king, in the person of J. Thornwell Witherspoon, is conceded to be the handsomest monarch that ever sat upon a mimic throne.

Costumes of Rex and His Queen.

In a tunic of pink and gold brocade over scarlet fleshings, with cloak of heavy white satin embroidered in gold, he presented a striking appearance. A jeweled collar and crown completed his outfit. His queen, Miss Minge, wore a gown of white Duchesse satin with panels of Lyons lace over silver mousseline and ending in silver spangles. The waist, trimmed in similar fashion, was decollete, with Marie Antoinette lace sleeves, and the magnificent mantle was completely of lace spangled with silver, pearls and diamonds over a lining of silver mousseline and bordered with white ostrich tips. A deep Medici collar framed in her face, a necklace being worn on the throat and a tiara on the brow. The eight ladies and gentlemen in waiting were only a degree less gorgeous in costumes.

The parade of the Mystick Krewe of Comus portraying "A Leaf from the Mahabharata" was the most dazzling of the carnival. It was a dream of Oriental splendor. At the ball, where Comus and his queen, Miss Myrtle Stauffer, were the central figures, the most graceful compliment was reserved for Miss Roosevelt, who was summoned before the monarch and presented with a large bouquet. The President's daughter had an eager array of suitors to ask her hand for every dance that followed.

The king is dead, but his memory long will live.

KILLING OFF THE LADRONES

Americans End Lives of Twenty-Six of Them in Winning Two Victories.

MANILA, March 3.—A detachment of scouts under the command of Lieut. Nickerson attacked and defeated a body of ladrones near the village of Mariquina, seven miles from Manila, yesterday. Lieut. Nickerson attacked before daylight. After an hour's fighting the ladrones were scattered and 19 were killed and many wounded. There were no casualties on the side of the scouts.

The constabulary last Wednesday surprised and captured the stronghold of the ladrones in the mountains of Albay, Luzon, where a force of ladrones attacked a small detachment of the constabulary on Feb. 20. The constabulary on Wednesday met with some resistance from the ladrones, who were defeated with a loss of 10 killed and four captured. The ladrones' stronghold and supplies were burned.

BRAVE CHAPLAIN ON TRIAL

Gavitt Before Court-Martial as Result of Daughter's Elopement Debt.

DENVER, Colo., March 3.—The trial by courtmartial of Chaplain Halsey C. Gavitt on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, was held at Fort Logan.

The trial is the outcome of a civil suit brought against Chaplain Gavitt by the firm of Schlesinger & Mayer of Chicago to recover a debt of $371, which was contracted by his daughter several years ago. In his testimony today Chaplain Gavitt said the debt was contracted by his daughter in buying a trousseau before her elopement with Ariel C. Jewell, son of a wealthy Chicago merchant. He declared that he paid part of it, but declined to pay more when he learned that the firm was trying to collect it from Jewell's family.

Testimony was introduced to show Chaplain Gavitt's gallant conduct in Cuba and the Philippines. The case was finished and the finding will be sent to Washington before becoming public.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

A Story of the Flood

There was a cloud burst and the grocery store basement was partly flooded.

The grocerman sent the boy down to see if any damage had been done to the stock stored there.

15 minutes passed and the boy failed to return; 30 minutes and still no boy. Then the grocerman investigated.

He found the boy there all right, seated well above high water mark; a package of Uneeda Biscuit in his hand; his mouth full of the contents.

"What in the name of common sense have you been doing down here all this time?" inquired the grocerman.

The boy looked up with a good natured grin; gulped once or twice; finally gained control of his speech and replied:

"Gee! I ain't found a spoiled package of Uneeda Biscuit yet. I've opened and tried all of this big pile here, and this is the last package. They're just as good and fresh as ever!"

MORAL.—A hungry boy will "spoil" more good, fresh Uneeda Biscuit than a cloud burst.
